Saleyards splurge

EXCLUSIVE

THE District Council of Grant's bid for federal funding for the redevelopment of the Mount Gambier saleyards has been boosted with the Labor Party pledging $2.7m, placing pressure on the State Liberal Government to match the commitment.

Today, the State Opposition announced that it would provide $2.7m towards a redevelopment of the saleyards if elected to government next month.

Last year, the Grant council was unsuccessful with its application to the Federal Government to secure funding for the redevelopment which is believed to worth about $11m.

Care risks exposed

CHARLOTTE VARCOE

charlotte.varcoe@btwtoday.com.au

BOANDIK Lodge in Mount Gambier has been labelled as posing an "immediate and severe risk" to the safety, health or well-being of its residents following a Covid-19 outbreak in the facility.

The Federal Government's Aged Care Quality and Safety Commission (ACQSC), established after the Royal Commission into Aged Care, issued a notice to Boandik Lodge Inc last month stating it had "identified that there is an immediate and severe risk to the safety, health or well-being of care recipients to whom the approved provider is providing care".

The notice comes amid revelations this week that a resident of Boandik Lodge died in Mount Gambier hospital from Covid-19.

An advisor to assist in returning the facility to full compliance, as required by the notice from ACQSC, was appointed at Boandik Lodge's expense on January 23 and the residents and relatives were notified on January 25.

Until the compliance issues are addressed, a sanction has been placed on the facility that it will not be eligible to receive Commonwealth subsidies for any new care recipients until May 24.

The notice requires Boandik Lodge Inc to provide, at its expense, training for its officers, employees and agents... and to demonstrate that it has provided that training.

Details on the notice reveal that the failures which led to the sanction being imposed were in the areas of personal and clinical care, and human resources.

Police continue fire probe

POLICE are continuing their investigation into the Crater Lakes fire which has been deemed as suspicious.

In a statement issued last week, Police also warned drone operators about the dangers of flying their drones near fire areas.

During the fire, a member of the public flew a drone in the vicinity of the fire resulting in air support having to be grounded for over 30 minutes, which hampered firefighting efforts.

“This act was not only reckless in consideration of the pilots who work in incredibly dangerous conditions, but selfish in the impact this could have had of the ongoing spread of the fire,” Inspector Karmen Conway, acting officer in charge of the Limestone Coast Local Service Area said.

“Those with drones are reminded that there are strict rules when flying drones and these are legislated under Commonwealth Law.

“Critically, in this instance there was a 5nm (9.2km) exclusion zone for all unauthorised aircraft around the fire grounds.

“It is strongly advised that if you are going to use a drone, you know where and when you can operate the device.

“We thank the community for providing SAPOL information in regards to concerns relative to the use of the drone.

“All leads provided thus far have been investigated and at this time the investigation is ongoing,” Inspector Conway said.

Any information can be provided anonymously through Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000, or by ringing your nearest police station.

WATER BOMBING: The Crater Lakes fire fighting effort included water bombing aircraft which were hampered temporarily by a drone.

‘Immediate and severe risk’ at Boandik Lodge: Govt report

Training required by the notice “should include, but not be limited to, management of infection prevention and control, correct usage of PPE [personal protective equipment], identification and action to assist clinically deteriorating residents and human resources”.

The facility must also participate in regular teleconferences with the Commission and ensure a regular written report is prepared and provided to enable the Commission to monitor its progress.

Boandik Lodge chief executive officer Gillian McGinty said there were a “number of details” regarding the decision including insufficient staff numbers due to Covid-positive cases but she would not comment on specific details.

“One of the reasons was due to the large number of staff testing positive and managing a large outbreak, which I think we are all learning at this stage,” she said.

“What we would do now if there were another outbreak is completely different to what we would do in the future because of what we have learnt over the past few weeks.

“It is very disappointing that we haven’t been found to meet the standards but we now need to improve on our processes and move forward,” she said.

About 22 residents and 37 staff tested positive throughout the Covid-19 outbreak with Ms McGinty hoping the facility would be Covid-free by the end of the week.

LOOKING FORWARD: Following a difficult couple of weeks, Boandik Lodge chief executive officer Gillian McGinty says she is looking to the future of the residential aged care facility.

“We have cleared our residents who had Covid and are just waiting on the final testing results to come through,” Ms McGinty said.

“Hopefully we will be able to declare the outbreak over and get back to some form of normality.”

REMEMBERING THE FIRE: Mount Gambier resident Dorothy Koop reflects on the last fire at the Crater Lakes in 1944.

78 YEARS AGO: The Border Watch reported on the 1944 fire on January 22.

Remembering Crater fires from childhood

CHARLOTTE VARCOE
charlotte.varcoe@tbwtoday.com.au

IT has been 78 years since the last Crater Lakes fire with long-term Mount Gambier resident, Dorothy Koop, remembering the ordeal.

When she was just four years old, Ms Koop recalled seeing the devastation from the fire which was started by a bullet ricochet at the old rifle range on January 21, 1944.

It was reported in The Border Watch the next day that the fire started at around 4 o'clock the evening before with about 30 volunteers helping to extinguish the blaze.

By 2.30 the following morning, the fire was under control.

"I remember my father, Thomas, coming home after fighting the fire and he was covered in soot and dirt," Ms Koop said.

"He came home to milk the cows because Mum had the two kids at the time, and once he was done he went back to the fire to help."

Ms Koop said she also remembered her mother and father speaking about how devastating the fire was with volunteers using sand and buckets to fight the fire.

"It was very different to how they deal with fires today," she said.

"They had to use sand and buckets because they didn't have the equipment we have now."

Remembering seeing the area after the fire for the first time, Ms Koop said it was "scarred and black" with everything burnt down.

"The entire area was burnt, so it was a bigger fire than this time, but I am looking forward to watching the vegetation grow back," she said

"It was amazing to watch last time."

As for the fire last week, Ms Koop said she followed the incident extensively on social media.

"I sent photos to my sons who don't live here anymore and they couldn't believe it," she said.

"Some of the photos people took were brilliant and especially at night-time."

Ms Koop congratulated volunteers on their efforts to stamp out the fire and said the modern technology for fighting fires was a blessing.

"It is so much easier for firefighters these days with the trucks and equipment because we have the technology to fight fires properly," she said.

"There was nothing like that when my dad was fighting fires back in the day."

Following the recent devastation of the Crater Lakes, the area is now back under control of Mount Gambier City Council which is urging people to stay away from the area until the council advises it is safe.

The cause of the fire is still being investigated by police with anyone with any information encouraged to call CrimeStoppers on 1800 333 000.

Funds pledge

FROM PAGE 1

The application, through the Building Better Regions Fund, requires a contribution from council and the State Government.

Grant council is expected to submit a further application to the Federal Government this month.

The State Liberal Government is yet to commit any funding.

Labor Leader Peter Malinauskas said: "...the Limestone Coast has huge potential in terms of growing its economic output.

"The major upgrade of the saleyards could provide an increase of an estimated 20 to 30 per cent of weekly fat market sales.

"Increased sales mean more opportunities for primary producers and local businesses.

"Add all that up, and it means more jobs."

The saleyards are the largest cattle livestock exchange facility in the Limestone Coast, and a significant contributor to the region's agricultural economy.

The District Council of Grant proposal for funding from all three tiers of government at the saleyards is for work that includes, 300mm soft fall flooring, the replacement of concrete slabs on the buyers' walkways, constructing a roof over its cattle yards and loading ramps, increasing the size of selling pens, installing solar panels, a new, modern rainwater harvesting and watering system, and an audio-visual system to allow online sales.

Owned and operated by the District Council of Grant since it opened in 1977, the Mount Gambier and Districts Saleyards will also receive several other upgrades to improve accessibility and safety at the yards, and more efficient systems to safely increase the amount of cattle that can fit in the yard at any one time.

Over the financial years 2014/15 to 2019/20 the average value of livestock transactions through the facility was $118.6m per annum, while in 2019/20 transactions rose to nearly $123 million.

Labor said 70 per cent of beef production in Australia is exported, and this saleyard is supporting South Australia's efforts to expand its meat production footprint.

Shadow Minister for Primary Industries and Regional Development Clare Scriven said the saleyards are a major economic contributor for the region, and this funding will ensure that footprint only grows.

"Local primary producers and businesses have had many challenges in recent years, an investment in them and their work is ultimately an investment in the future of our State," she said.

URGING THE COMMUNITY TO REPORT COVID-19 POSITIVE TESTS: Limestone Coast Local Health Network Executive Director of Medical Services, Dr Elaine Pretorius.

Call to keep reporting Covid 19

WITH the number of reported active Covid-19 cases dropping in the Limestone Coast, the region's top health official has reminded residents of the obligation to report any positive case, including those revealed by a Rapid Antigen Test (RAT) taken at home.

Limestone Coast Local Health Network Executive Director of Medical Services, Dr Elaine Pretorius said: "While we have seen the number of positive Covid-19 cases drop recently in South Australia, we would like to remind members of the community to follow health advice and the process for reporting a positive Covid-19 test result.

"You must report your positive result within 24 hours through the online form on the SA Health website if you get your test from a designated RAT Collection Point, from a retail outlet, from your workplace or any other means.

"You can also report negative and invalid results, which help give SA Health a more accurate picture of Covid-19 rates in South Australia.

"It is important we keep track of our Covid-19 rates in our community so we can continue to actively respond to Covid-19 and manage the way we deliver care in our health facilities.

"If you don't have a mobile phone with internet access, you can report your positive result by calling the SA Covid-19 Information Line on 1800 253 787.

"You should get a PCR test as soon as you develop any Covid-19 symptoms and are not a close contact.

"If you test positive to a RAT, this is considered a case.

"You do not need to get a PCR test to confirm your result, however you are required to report your result within 24 hours, isolate for 10 days from the day you had a positive result, and notify your close contacts that you have tested positive."

MacKillop contender

FORMER Wattle Range Mayor, Mark Braes will contest the upcoming State election as the Labor party's candidate in MacKillop.

After nine years away from the region, Mr Braes returned in May last year to live in Millicent and was announced last month as the Labor Party's candidate for the safe Liberal seat of MacKillop which is held by incumbent Nick McBride.

Mr Braes was Mayor of Wattle Range Council for four years until 2010 and also held leadership roles locally in Regional Development and Natural Resources Management.

Prior to his return to Millicent, Mr Braes spent four years working in Adelaide for the Workers Compensation Tribunal and then worked in mediation services for five years in his birth place of Broken Hill.

He has now set up his own local mediation business based in Millicent, called Braes Mediation Solutions.

"I felt I needed to get back involved," Mr Braes told The Border Watch when he was seen at Wattle Range Council's Australia Day Awards ceremony where he was in attendance on behalf on Labor MLC Clare Scriven.

"Health is front of mind," he said adding that Labor Leader, Peter Malinauskas recently visited the Limestone Coast to announce more than $52 million in pledges for the region's health system.

"But that money is only spent if you elect a Labor Government and I will be reminding people in MacKillop of that," Mr Braes said.

He said people had asked him why he would put himself forward as a Labor candidate in such a safe Liberal seat as MacKillop.

"One reporter asked 'Why, you are only going to lose', but for me winning is not always the motivation," Mr Braes said.

"I am about ensuring that in every political contest there is a genuine contest.

"I'm about telling people why Labor will make for a better society and to point out the deficits of the current government.

"It's the first time I have been preselected as a candidate and I intend to give it my best shot."

Mr Braes said he intended to get himself out into the community to talk with people.

"I will be moving around the electorate and listening to people and will be letting people know where they can see me," he said.

Mr Braes is the second candidate to announce their intention to compete with Nick McBride for the seat of MacKillop with President of the SA Nationals, Tintinara farmer, Jonathan Pietzch announcing his candidacy last year.

First-time year 7's at high school

charlotte.varcoe@tbwtoday.com.au

YEAR 7 students began high school for the first time in South Australian history this week.

Mount Gambier High School welcomed both Year 7 and 8's to their first day as high school students on Wednesday, as well as Year 12s, with all other students learning online.

High school principal, Annette Ryan said both younger year levels were nervous to begin high school but settled in quickly.

"Starting high school is always a big step, no matter when they start and most kids have nerves on the first day," Ms Ryan said.

"Most kids were also grateful to be back at school and face-to-face with their friends and new teachers."

Ms Ryan said teaching at the high school was focused on the relationships between students and teachers and maintaining that human connection.

"We are thrilled to have both the Year 7's and Year 8's starting this year and we know it has been a challenge for all schools due to the high uptake of students in one year," she said.

"Last year we did an enormous amount of planning and work to have the curriculum and have everything in place for the transition."

Ms Ryan said despite a rocky start to the year - due to online learning for some and on-campus learning for others - all students seemed happy and content.

Year 7 students Mackenzie and Payton expressed excitement about beginning high school.

"We were a little nervous about being in high school because we both came from a small primary school so Mount Gambier High School is huge for us," Mackenzie said.

"I like that there are a lot of class options for the future which is great and we are happy to do something different."

Agreeing with her fellow student, Payton said she was most excited to get stuck into art and technology class.

"There are a lot more options here and it is a lot different to primary school," Payton said.

"We are both looking forward to the rest of the year and trying out new classes."

QR code retail relief

ELSIE ADAMO

elsie.adamo@tbwtoday.com.au

QR CODE check-ins are no longer required for retail customers in South Australia.

Taking effect last Saturday, the removal of QR code check-ins was one of the Covid-19 restrictions to be eased by the State Government.

As a result QR check-ins are no longer needed for general retail, but would remain in use at high-risk locations such as aged care and health facilities.

Owner of Mount Gambier fashion shop Redgum Country, Wendy Richardson is hopeful the change will lead to more people in her stores.

"I think it will help retail a lot," she said.

"People have been reluctant; they would prefer not to go out to places while QR codes were in use. "I think it will help the traffic flow a bit better.

"It will also be a lot easier on the staff, they will not have to do that extra job of checking that everyone is checking in." Ms Richardson said while most customers have embraced the change, some have been looking for the QR code unaware of the update.

"I have had to tell them they do not need to do it anymore," she said.

Capacity limits for hospitality venues have also been doubled from 25 to 50 per cent.

Ms Richardson said she is hopeful that if more people go out for meals or events it will mean more business. "Hopefully it will help with confidence, and people will start to go back to cafes and restaurants," she said.

"If people go out they may be happy to purchase something new to wear.

"We definitely have had more traffic flow now the weddings and special occasions are coming back in the last week."

NO LONGER NEEDED: Redgum Country owner Wendy Richardson was happy to be taking down her store's QR check-in codes.

Robe records lowest Covid case numbers

IRONICALLY, Robe currently has the lowest number of active Covid-19 cases in the Limestone Coast after the seaside town became the epi-centre of the virus's spread throughout the region after the Christmas/New Year period.

As at Wednesday this week there were 3,513 total confirmed positive cases from across the Limestone Coast since the pandemic began, and most of these have occurred since the last festive season.

As people have recovered the numbers have reduced but new cases continue to be reported and the number of active cases total 551 across the Limestone Coast as of Wednesday.

The highest number of active cases is recorded in the City of Mount Gambier area with 229 cases, followed by Tatiara with 117 cases, Grant District Council area with 70 cases, Naracoorte/Lucindale council area with 60 cases, Wattle Range Council area with 54, Kingston with 11 and Robe with 10.

ACROSS SA, as of Wednesday, there were 1723 new cases, 18741 active cases and 108,804 total confirmed cases.

There were 233 patients in hospital and 21 of them in intensive care units as of Wednesday.

During the pandemic there have been 121 deaths across the State.

Bay festival put on hold another year

CHARLOTTE VARCOE
charlotte.varcoe@tbwtoday.com.au

THE popular Bay Escape celebrations have been put off for another year due to ongoing concerns surrounding Covid-19.

Deciding to cancel the 2022 event recently, the festival committee said it was a disappointing decision which had to be made.

Speaking on behalf of the committee, Ryan Donovan said it seemed like the best decision for the community.

"It was not an easy decision to make," Mr Donovan said.

"There is a lot that goes into putting the event on and the ongoing changes makes it tricky to gamble on the future."

The family friendly event had been successful for a number of decades with the last festival held in 2020 mere months before the pandemic hit the nation.

"Just after we held the 2020 festival things started getting tricky," he said.

"Back then we had around 4000 to 5000 people coming through the gates across the day."

Mr Donovan said the committee decided against hosting the event due to logistical difficulties such as monitoring QR code check ins and funneling people through one gate at a time.

"It is disappointing to cancel twice especially as we went through a lot of rebranding in 2020, but we also received a lot of positive feedback that year which is great," he said.

NO ESCAPE FOR THE BAY: The 2022 Bay Escape will not go ahead due to ongoing uncertainties around Covid-19.

"Not being able to build on that has been frustrating but we are hoping to make it bigger and better next year as it has given us more time to plan."

Wanting to build the festival up, Mr Donovan said it would take time and effort but would be worth it in the end.

"The community has shown disappointment that it has been cancelled again but I think by now they are mostly used to it and accepting that events are still being cancelled," he said.

"People are disappointed but not surprised."

Community members who wish to help in running the 2023 Bay Escape festival are able to register an expression of interest by contacting the committee.

Police car rammed

AN offender tried to escape police in Mount Gambier this week, with a police officer still in the car.

Police reported that the incident began just after 9.30am on Tuesday when police sighted a stolen BMW sedan with two occupants on Pick Avenue.

The car had allegedly been involved in a petrol drive off at Nangwarry a short time earlier and in metropolitan Adelaide the day prior.

Police attempted to stop the driver however he refused and sped off onto the incorrect side of Jubilee Highway.

Patrols then found the car stalled on Wireless Road East where police approached and attempted to arrest the driver.

The accused was able to start the car and drove off with an officer inside the front passenger area.

He then crashed into a police vehicle before leaving the road and crashing into a tree.

The driver, a 34-year-old man from Kilburn, has been charged with illegal use of a car, aggravated drive dangerously to evade police, two counts of drive in a manner dangerous, acts to endanger life, four counts of driving unlicensed, two counts of make off without payment and possess firearm without licence and possess unregistered firearm after police located a gel blaster in the car.

He was refused bail and appeared in the Mt Gambier Magistrates Court on Wednesday.

City of Mount Gambier Mayor Lynette Martin OAM wishes to thank and acknowledge the community groups, businesses and individuals who supported the 2021 Mount Gambier Community Mayor's Christmas Appeal.

Thanks to this generous support, the appeal raised a record $51,231.60 in 2021.

Mayor Martin also acknowledges the important work of Lifeline, a.c care, Salvation Army, St Vincent de Paul and Uniting Care who ensure food hampers, gifts and vouchers are distributed to those who are most in need in our community each Christmas.

Indoor skating call

charlotte.varcoe@tbwtoday.com.au

THERE have been fresh calls for an indoor skating rink following the release of Mount Gambier City Council's Sport, Recreation and Open Space strategy.

Officially endorsed at the January council meeting, elected members discussed the new document which specifies potential improvements to a number of outdoor areas across the Blue Lake City.

The document suggests high priority strategic recommendations for the popular Railway Lands precinct including a newly developed skate park, three-by-three basketball court, ping pong tables and other components.

However, avid roller skaters have expressed the need for an indoor rink rather than another outdoor park due to ongoing issues surrounding litter and broken glass in the area.

Roller skating teacher Kylie Bamford said due to the ongoing issues across the Railway Lands it could make it difficult for people to practice their skills without risking injury.

"At the moment we use the old hospital grounds and sometimes the Railway Lands but unfortunately we can encounter rubbish or broken glass which makes it really dangerous if anyone falls," Ms Bamford said.

"This type of sport is better learnt indoors and places such as the new Wulanda Recreation Centre which would be great for indoor roller skating."

Ms Bamford congratulated council on its attempt to improve outdoor areas, yet believed the Railway Lands would benefit from other improvements.

"I feel the Railway Lands is better suited to its beautiful landscape area with more art sculptures and ponds to make the centre of the town stronger for tourism," she said.

"Whereas other skate parks could benefit from upgrades and shelter from the winter weather."

Mount Gambier City Council general manager for city growth Tim Coote said those interested in providing different ideas were able to do so through the council's Have Your Say website.

"Those who have ideas are also welcome to have a good read and a look at the strategy and read the recommendations that are coming from the strategy document," Mr Coote said.

"Council is interested in looking at ideas which are inline with the strategy and if someone has good ideas they should present them."

"We are happy to consider all ideas, however indoor facilities come with other constraints and considerations which is the benefit of having this document because when plans do come along we are able to align it with our strategic focus."

The Open Spaces document is available for viewing on council's website.

EDITOR'S COMMENT

ELECTION campaigns usually have at least two contenders showering our communities with promises.

With only six weeks until we go to the polls, it seems to be a one-way campaign.

In recent months the Labor Party has made pledges worth tens of millions of dollars for the Limestone Coast.

These pledges of funding range from a new technical school, health services - including the Mount Gambier, Keith and Naracoorte hospitals - and today the Mount Gambier saleyards.

Whether correctly or not, Labor has traditionally been seen by the voters as the party with a strong-hold on health and education.

On the other hand, primary industries, particularly farming, is the other end of the pendulum for Labor - it's not Labor's strong point.

Previous Labor governments have been well known for tribalism - looking after its loyal voter base and winning over marginal seat voters.

The Liberal Party is similar when it comes to retaining and winning marginal seats but that's about where similarities stop.

Nothing new - it's called pork-barrelling and it works in marginal seats.

So why would Labor commit $2.7m towards the Mount Gambier sale yards and the State Liberals are yet to do so?

Is it a reborn Labor Party, a party that intends to embrace the whole State in a planned utopian society?

Probably not but rather a pragmatic move to win the hearts and minds of voters in the Limestone Coast.

Labor knows it can't win the seats of MacKillop and Mount Gambier, but it might be able to win the support of Nick McBride and Troy Bell.

Mr McBride threatened to leave the Liberal Party last year and Mr Bell is currently an independent.

Both can't be ruled out of supporting the formation of a future Labor Government if they hold the balance of power.

Although it would be treachery for either man to do so without the support of their community, Labor is trying to win that very support for them.

Volunteer praise

THE Country Fire Service has thousands of volunteers across South Australia who train hard and risk their lives for our communities.

In remembrance to the recent CFS member, Louise Hincks who was fatally injured as she served our community fighting a large fire.

A member from the Happy Valley Brigade, Louise gave the ultimate sacrifice for our community.

Where would our communities be without these dedicated volunteers?

Committed to weekly training, giving up their time to respond upon the call of a pager or phone in the middle of their employment, or whatever the time of day.

Can you imagine the pager going off in the middle of the night and the expectation that you will get out of bed and be there for someone in trouble whether it be a fire or vehicle accident.

We often drive past CFS stations isolated on back roads and within townships, secure and locked up.

Do we ever think about the men and women who bring these CFS stations to life.

Within minutes of a pager being activated, these small stations become alive with volunteers responding and unselfishly serving their community.

As a community do, we acknowledge these men and women for the committed work they do, or do we just expect they will be there when required.

I for one have great respect for our CFS volunteers.

As Mayor, I have taken the opportunity to visit the CFS Brigades within the Wattle Range Council area on training nights.

The purpose of these informal visits over the last three years is to acknowledge our CFS volunteers and thank them for the work they are doing for our community and let them know they are not forgotten.

On many visits they have been conducting training drills and ensuring the fire appliance is serviceable and ready to respond. It has been a privilege to watch training drills such as burn over skills and how members keep themselves safe.

As a community we are very proud of our Country Fire Service Volunteers, knowing that the work they do is dangerous, but they continue to serve - I salute you.

Support during fire

LAST week our community experienced something many were too young to have witnessed before.

Our iconic mountain was burning, and we all processed it differently.

There was the sadness at such a natural beauty being ravaged by fire, the fear that it could spread to areas we hold close, the anger at the thought that someone may be responsible.

Despite all that, our community did what it often does - it came together.

When faced with uncertainty, communities can be divided or they can stick together stronger than before, and I saw a lot of the latter last week.

To some, like my wife and I, the Conservation Park is our sanctuary.

Through social media we found others who felt the same, and new friendships have been formed through the shared grief and eventual relief of the situation.

To many children, the Valley Lakes playground is their favourite, and they were worried they might lose it.

The walkers and riders, the families and friends, the locals and the visitors.

We all witnessed an event that devastated the landscape that stands as the backdrop to our city, but more importantly we witnessed unity - within the community, and with the emergency services who worked together through impossible terrain.

We saw businesses and residents drop everything to help. We saw Mount Gambier doing what Mount Gambier does best - supporting each other when times get tough.

Tourism's mixed bag

elsie.adamo@tbwtoday.com.au

TOURISM outlook numbers across the State hit their lowest point since 2010 at the end of last year, but local accommodation providers are still optimistic about the future.

The latest tourism industry data from the Tourism Industry Council of South Australia (TiCSA) shows business outlook has deteriorated to the second-lowest level since 2010, after further restrictions and uncertainty leaves businesses struggling to stay afloat.

The survey undertaken by 370 businesses across the State for the October to December 2021 quarter suggested that the constantly changing environment and lack of support still posed a threat to the tourism industry.

Michael Kosch, director of Mount Gambier accommodation businesses The Commodore and The Henty, said the outlook seemed bleak last year.

"I would say our numbers through that period up until the borders reopened were terrible," Mr Kosch said.

"They were very down through that period."

However, since the borders reopened, Mr Kosch said business has grown again.

"We had a very good January, our January was more than 10 per cent better than last year," he said.

"Even better than January in 2020 or 2019."

"I am actually quite optimistic about the future."

"I think we are through the worst of it."

While a busy summer was welcome news, Mr Kosch said it would not cover losses from 2021 which were felt strongly in the region.

"The Limestone Coast has suffered significantly compared to other tourist regions," he said.

SLOW RECOVERY: Michael Kosch said he is more optimistic about tourism in the Limestone Coast now the borders are open, but it will take time to recover.

"We are fortunately, but unfortunately located so close to the Victorian border that we get smashed by not having that market segment which is traditionally 55 to 60 per cent of our business."

"The Great Ocean Road is a really big tourism drawcard that keeps people on the road between Adelaide and Melbourne."

Mr Kosch said accommodation numbers are improving, it is a different outlook for restaurants attached to the businesses.

"The capacity restrictions are not the issue, it is the public confidence that they are not prepared to go out," he said.

"They are too concerned about getting covid or being a close contact."

"Businesses cannot make money at 50 per cent density."

"We need some government confidence and reassurance provided to people so they can go out and live their lives, visit the local pubs or restaurants."

TiCSA Chief Executive Officer, Shaun de Bruyn said that these results show a desperate need for industry assistance.

"Last quarter's Barometer reinforces that now, more than ever, our tourism industry needs support to survive, and then recover, from the effects of the pandemic," Mr De Bruyn said.

"A staggering $2.3 billion has been wiped off the value of our visitor economy since the start of the pandemic."

"As such, we continue to push for further restart and recovery funding for tourism businesses here in SA."

Offering further Support

ADDITIONAL cash grants of up to $22,000, more 'Great State' vouchers, and Adelaide CBD dining out vouchers, are key features of the latest State Government funded business support package for hospitality and tourism businesses, gyms and other businesses impacted by Covid-19 restrictions.

Announced this week, the cash grants will be automatically paid to previous recipients of the Tourism, Hospitality and Gym Grant and the Business Hardship Grant, paid by the State Government in January this year.

For other businesses that meet the turnover decline criteria between 10 January and 30 January 2022 – 30 per cent turnover decline for the Tourism, Hospitality and Gym Grant and those impacted by the one person per seven square metre density restrictions, and 50 per cent turnover reduction for all others – the grants will be application based.

Accommodation and Tours and Experiences of the Great State voucher scheme are another key element of this businesses support package, and 160,000 vouchers will be up for grabs across accommodation, tours and experiences – equating to more than half of the total number of vouchers issued in the scheme to date.

Automatic payments are expected to start today.

TOMATO GROWS: Naomi Auld of Brand's Laura showcases some of the tomatoes ready to go for this year's competition.

Tomatoes set to show

TOMATOES will be in high demand again this year with the annual Tomato Growing Competition kicking off.

Now in its eighth year, event organiser Maria Weinburg said they were expecting another successful year of entries.

"We had around 25 entries last year and so far it is looking like a sensational season for growing tomatoes which is fantastic," Ms Weinburg said.

"Due to the season we are expecting some wonderful entries this year and look forward to seeing them all."

She said the community response to the event continued to grow each year with many coming to see who grew the best tomato.

"Many people come along, have a drink and cheer each other on," Ms Weinburg said.

"We are also encouraging females to join in and compete this year too because throughout the entire history of the competition there has been only one female winner."

Funds raised from the competition will go towards a defibrillator machine for the Coonawarra Hall.

Entries must be submitted before March 1 with the winner announced on the following Friday.

charlotte.varcoe@tbwtoday.com.au

PENOLA'S beloved postie Trudy Taylor will welcome a helping hand after hiring a fill-in to allow her to have days off.

After being a postie in the town for almost 20 years, Ms Taylor said it had taken her two years to find someone to help.

"It has been quite challenging being the only postie in town as I have worked every working day for the last three years," Ms Taylor said.

"It has taken me two years to find someone to fill in so I can take a break which is great."

Working as the town's postie throughout the Covid-19 pandemic, Ms Taylor had also asked recipients to tread carefully and practice Covid-19 safe procedures while delivering post.

"I wear a mask and sanitise my hands regularly when I am delivering," she said.

"I have also requested people wait until I leave their premises before they open their door."

Ms Taylor said there had been an increase in parcel deliveries during the pandemic.

"Before the pandemic, I was delivering around 40 parcels or so a day but now it is usually near or over 100," she said.

"I have absolutely loved the community for being so fantastic and really appreciate the patience and understanding they have shown as the delivery times get later, usually owing to the increase in parcels."

Ms Taylor will continue her work despite the ongoing pandemic and said she had loved being the town's postie for so long.

"I am not worried about catching Covid because most people are doing the right thing," she said.

"I absolutely love being the postie and will continue to enjoy it."

Penola community groups receive funding

PENOLA community and sporting groups have been successful in receiving funding grants from the Wattle Range Council.

Both the Penola Pastoral Agricultural and Horticultural Show Society and the Penola Amateur Swimming Club received funding from the most recent round of council's financial assistance program.

The show society received $838 to purchase a number of umbrellas for new timber tables built by volunteers while the swimming club received $2000 for new pool lane ropes.

Show society secretary Kathy Fennell said committee members were excited to further develop the area.

"The umbrellas will be used for outdoor functions and events and will also be used by the community when needed," Ms Fennell said.

"We have six new outdoor tables which were built by committee members and each table seats six people in total."

GRANT CELEBRATION: Penola Pastoral Agricultural and Horticultural Show Society secretary Kathy Fennell celebrates the funding announcement.

Made from donated timber, the seats will be completed by the new umbrellas, providing shade and comfort for up-and-coming events.

"Once the tables were built we thought the umbrellas would enable them to be used outside as well as under the newly developed pavilion," Ms Fennell said.

"We are planning to have a comforting grass area outside the pavilion with shaded trees and think this will really help the area as well."

Applications for a bonus round of funding is now open for community and sporting groups to consider.

Wattle Range Council Mayor Des Noll said he encouraged groups to consider applying with funds available on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

"We support applications for all sorts of projects, from minor equipment purchases, right up to larger infrastructure installations or event support," Mr Noll said.

"Now is the time to put your hand out and seek some much-needed assistance in ensuring your Club is getting the support it needs."

Applications for the next round of funding close on February 28 with guidelines available on the council website.

Art festival celebrates 30 years

CHARLOTTE VARCOE

THE Penola Coonawarra Arts Festival will celebrate its 30th year with a number of events already in the pipeline.

To be held in May, registrations for events have officially closed with festival committee president John Mossop saying it will be a jam-packed program.

Looking forward to hosting the four-day event, Mr Mossop said the committee continued to work hard to ensure the festival this year was a raging success.

"This year will also mark the 150th birthday of John Shaw Neilson, marking a major celebration for the town," Mr Mossop said.

"Therefore the John Shaw Neilson Acquisitive Art prize will be a major feature."

With the generous sponsorship of the Balnaves Foundation, the prize money for the art prize has been increased this year to $12,000.

It is open to all emerging and established artists with entries inspired by the poetry of John Shaw Neilson who was born in Penola.

In addition to the art prize, the annual Local Images Art Prize, Penola Coonawarra Design prize, Catherine Martin Literary award and the Buskers and Open Mic competition will also be held.

"We are all looking forward to a big event and although we are still waiting for the outcome of the co-opera event we are hoping it will be a great time," Mr Mossop said.

Also featured this year will be more street performers from across the region with a major focus on local music.

"To be able to hold the festival each year for this long and to be able to hold a festival overall is a great achievement and the committee has been absolutely fantastic," Mr Mossop said.

"Members of the community should keep their diaries free for this time of the year and book it in their calendar."

"There will be so many different things to see and do and there will also be a big program for the children so we are encouraging people from across the State to come along."

The festival will be held from May 12 to 15 with competition entries open now.

New principal at Millicent

KATHY GANDOLFI

kathy.gandolfi@tbwtoday.com.au

TODD Watson might be one of the youngest Principals to walk the halls of Millicent High School (MHS).

At the age of 35, Mr Watson has been appointed to the top job at MHS following in the footsteps of John Shelton who retired last year after 17 years in the role.

Mr Watson has had a meteoric rise through the ranks at MHS having spent his entire teaching career at the school after graduating from Flinders University 10 years ago and moving back to the region he grew up in having been a student at Kangaroo Inn Area School.

His first year out of university was as a Year 8 Physical Education teacher at MHS and he rose to become Senior School Leader last year.

His 11th year in teaching has him leading the school he knows well and he says he was encouraged to take on the role because of the team at MHS.

"I have had good mentors along the way and I would not have taken on this role without the good teaching staff and leadership team I have around me," Mr Watson said.

"John left the school in good stead and I want to continue the legacy that John built.

"It's all been a big part in me wanting to step up into this role."

His first year as Principal has already thrown up challenges with Covid-19 delaying and splitting the return to school for classes, and it is the first year in which Year 7 classes have been incorporated into high school.

With about 360 students enrolled at the main Millicent High School campus, about 70 of them are in the new Year 7 classes for the first time.

They were among the selected Year levels to begin the school year this week.

In line with Government guidelines, which changed all schools from beginning on Monday, an extra two days were provided for staff to settle into the changed arrangements and prepare for online schooling for some year levels.

As a result, Years 7, 8 and 12 students returned to face to face learning on Wednesday while Years 9, 10 and 11 have online learning off-campus until their return to face-to-face learning on Monday, February 14.

Mr Watson welcomed seven new staff to MHS including four full-time teachers and three part-time.

The new full time staff include Jed Telfer who moved from Millicent North Primary School to teach physical education for Years 7 to 10 at MHS.

Morgen Lindner came from Beachport Primary School to teach Year 7 classes at MHS.

Michelle McAuly came to MHS from the Education Department based in Mount Gambier and will be mainly teaching Year 8 classes, and Xue Bai will be teaching maths and science to Years 7 to 10.

New part-time teachers include Paul Vanderhorst who was a temporary relief teacher and will now be teaching maths and science to Years 7 to 10 classes.

From Penola, Samantha Freeman will be teaching physical education at MHS to mark the beginning of her teaching career after finishing her studies last year.

Teaching Japanese part time at MHS will be Monika Lenart.

Mr Watson said these staff joined a great team.

"The great staff has been a drawcard for me to take this job and also, being a local, I feel it is important to give to the area you live in and have a vested interest in for its future," he said.

"I'm looking forward to the year and what challenges it may bring."

Mr Watson lives in Millicent with his wife Emily and children Elke, Iris and Angus, and, being a keen sportsman, he continues to play sport in the area including tennis and will return to the football fields for the coming season at Hatherleigh.

Future residential allotments

kathy.gandolfi@tbwtoday.com.au

VACANT land along Fifth Street in Millicent may become available for future residential allotments if Wattle Range Council's aim to purchase the land freehold from the State Government is realised.

At council's meeting recently, elected members agreed to a staff recommendation to consult residents about removing the land's classification as 'community' which, if the public are in agreeance, will allow the State Government to release the land as freehold for purchase by council at an agreed purchase price of $71,500.

Currently the land is Crown Land under the care and control of council and contains community facilities including the Road Safety School, Lions Den, Men's Shed and Craft Centre.

These facilities would be protected to continue their activities as normal under the proposal for purchase by Council.

The proposal would allow council to divide the triangular piece of land so that the community facilities were included on one allotment, while the remaining vacant land, which covers about 2.8 hectares, could be sold by council for potential residential allotments.

The existing adjacent Belt Road walking track would be unaffected by the proposal.

The State Government first approached council to ascertain its interest in purchasing the land in 2020 and work has under been underway ever since to progress the matter.

"Council's future intent for the land is to undertake a realignment of the boundaries to enable all of the Community Hub assets to be located on one land parcel to simplify future land administration of these assets," said a staff report to council's meeting last week.

"In respect to the balance of the land there is potential for this land to be subdivided from the community hub assets area (without impacting the Belt Road linear reserve) to encourage expansion of residential allotments which is in short supply in the Millicent township currently."

ENJOYING MILLICENT'S ROAD SAFETY SCHOOL: On Sunday, Casey Marshall (on bike) with his sister Pipa (behind) and his cousin Kayleb Rigney-Leibhardt (right). The facility's future will be assured under a Council plan to purchase it and other land as freehold.

Community consultation is anticipated to begin in the next two to three weeks.

Queen Mother's gardener

kathy.gandolfi@tbwtoday.com.au

MANY South Easterners know him as the knowledgeable voice often heard on a Saturday morning local radio gardening show, or the chap among masses of plants helping customers at one of Mount Gambier's plant nurseries.

But the Queen Mother knew him too. He is Gardenarium owner, Calum Haygarth who began his career in the Queen Mother's employ at the Castle of Mey on the north coast of Scotland.

Born at Thurso in Caithness County, Calum grew up with the imposing 450 year old castle being a part of the every day scenery and its owner, the Queen Mother, being a twice a year visitor.

The Queen Mother had purchased the castle in 1952 following the death that year of her husband, King George, and her daughter Elizabeth becoming the new monarch.

It had been used as an officers' rest home during the Second World War and fallen into disrepair.

The Queen Mother restored the castle and used it as a holiday home each August and October until her death in 2002.

Built in one of the most inhospitable places in the United Kingdom, the Castle of Mey is known for its garden surrounded by high walls which shield the plants within from relentless winds.

Calum was to become one of the Castle staff tending this protected garden.

With a long line of green thumbs in his family, Calum had a passion for gardening but it was his family's other skills that gave Calum a link to the Royal Family.

His grandmother was a dressmaker and haberdasher whose customers included the Queen Mother, and Calum said his grandmother sometimes would have her lunch at the Castle sitting on the Queen Mother's bed which was adorned with her handiwork.

Also, his father's gunsmith business had a Royal Warrant to supply the Royal Family with firearms and crossbows for pheasant shooting and Calum recalled, as a boy, going to the castle to deliver guns.

Calum's brother continues this business today.

This association made his family confident enough to encourage Calum, then 16 years old, to write a letter to the Queen Mother asking for a job.

He wrote the letter, and got a job - simple as that.

For the next 18 months, Calum worked in the garden at the Castle of Mey, tending to its 30 acres of parklands, high hedges, orchards, and vegetable and herb plots which supplied the Castle's kitchen.

"I'd get a list from the cook in the morning and, armed with a wooden wheelbarrow, I'd collect everything that was on the list and bring it back - all the Castle needed in fruit and vegetables, cut flowers and indoor plants came from the garden," Calum said.

Another one of Calum's tasks involved raising and lowering the Castle flag which sounds simple enough except the flag pole was on the highest tower of the castle and would require him to climb up the pole, hauling a large and heavy flag with him - not a job for the faint hearted.

Thankfully the flag was only flown when the Queen Mother was in residence which, Calum recalled, were the most exciting times.

"The Family would come from Balmoral and sail up while their entourage in cars would come overland to meet them.

"It was quite a big thing for Thurso.

"There were always lots of security officers when she (the Queen Mother) was in residence," Calum said, recalling an incident where the Queen Mother, in her familiar blue raincoat, walked from the Castle to the nearby ocean with her dogs, without alerting security officers, for which she was 'told off' on her return.

He recalled having spoken with the Queen Mother and found her very amicable.

"I was nervous the first time - I mean, what do you say to the Queen Mother - but she'd talk to you like normal," Calum said.

"The Queen Mother would come into the garden with her corgis and she had a favourite bench she sat on in the rose garden.

"She did love her roses and often sat on that bench in the 'Shell Garden' and would have a chat with the staff."

On one of these occasions, the Queen Mother presented Calum with a book on Caithness County, which he treasures to this day.

His stint at the Castle proved to be a launch pad for him and he climbed as high as he could on the horticultural ladder, completing a degree in horticulture at the University of Birmingham majoring in landscape design.

And, at the age of just 18, he won a gold medal at the the world's top flower show, the Royal Chelsea Flower Show in England.

Pursuing his career further meant leaving England on horticultural exchanges, the first being to Australia 33 years ago when he was 20 years old, then to the United States of America, on to Canada and back to London.

He returned to Australia almost 30 years ago to work at Conboy's Nursery in Mount Gambier and he has remained in the city ever since although in more recent years as the owner of Gardenarium which he operates with his wife Sandra.

Stakeholder committee

A NEW committee has been formed to advise Wattle Range Council on the operational management and long-term planning of the Millicent saleyards.

To be made up of representatives of stock agents, vendors, carriers, stock contractors and elected members of council, the committee came into being following a motion successfully put to council's meeting last month by Deputy Mayor, Moira Neagle.

During debate on the motion, Cr Neagle said the committee would be in line with the $689,000 commitment that was made by council in December to fund immediate maintenance needs at the saleyards.

"To have a formal forum would make the best use of the funds and guide the maintenance of our saleyards," Cr Neagle said.

Cr Neagle also attempted to move a motion to include a statement, that outlines the ongoing provision of the saleyards asset for community use, in the Wattle Range Council Strategic Plan with an appropriate allocation of funds for its maintenance and renewal in the long-term financial plan.

However, Cr Neagle withdrew her motion as it was considered inappropriate to commit future councils to funding, with Council elections due this November.

"I would prefer to have a long term commitment to the saleyards and that is the problem that there has not been a commitment," she said.

Cr Dale Price said the issue with the saleyards has been the reducing number of cattle being sold at the Millicent saleyards.

"People are voting with their feet and sending stock elsewhere," he said.

"But I think that the Section 41 committee will be useful for getting advice flowing both ways."

Ag funding welcomed

THE National Farmers Federation (NFF) has welcomed a shot in the arm for the sector's goal to reach $100 billion in farm gate output by 2030 with the Federal Government significantly bolstering investment in the traceability of Australian agricultural products.

NFF chief executive Tony Mahar said $64.8 million to expand and streamline traceability, as announced by Federal Agriculture Minister David Littleproud this week, would deliver multi-pronged benefits to farmers.

"The more confidence our international customers have in our farm products and how they are sustainably produced, the more they will be willing to pay and the more they will buy," Mr Mahar said.

"Importers increasingly want to better understand the process behind the product; the paddock to plate story, and to be assured that what they are buying has been grown and produced in a way that meets community expectations.

"Importantly, customers also need to know our products are free from pests, diseases and other biosecurity risks."

The increased funding will help farmers more effectively and efficiently demonstrate their biosecurity and production credentials through the harmonisation of reporting frameworks.

"Many farmers are actually surpassing what's required of them by importers, however they are hampered by the complexity and duplication of reporting frameworks," Mr Mahar said.

"Often farmers are using multiple platforms to report the same information."

The investment by Federal Government will allow for the establishment of a National Agricultural Traceability Alliance between industry and all levels of government to build national leadership and a more collaborative approach to traceability.

A National Agricultural Traceability Hub will also be established to progress data standardisation to reduce compliance and administrative burdens.

Also part of the investment will be an Agricultural Credentials Initiatives to develop an online tool to provide information on existing and emerging credentials, a roadmap to harmonise fragmented approaches that underpin the credentials of Australian farm products, and provide grants to increase industry capability.

"The NFF hopes the combined effect of these initiatives will increase farmers returns, cut the time and money spent on compliance and contribute to the overall value of Australian agriculture as we close in on $100 billion," Mr Mahar said.

The NFF is already working with the Federal Government on the development of the Australian Agricultural Sustainability Framework (AASF), to recognise farmers' sustainability efforts.

"The objective is to ensure the positive sustainability work of Australian farmers is recognised by supply chains, markets, investors, the community and other farmers," Mr Mahar said.

"Australian farmers produce world's best, high-quality, clean, green food and fibre.

"We have a great story to tell.

"This new investment will help farmers better tell this story, underpinned by evidence and data," Mr Mahar said.

Also welcoming the funding, Federal Member for Barker, Tony Pasin said:

"Barker is a proud producer of high-quality agricultural produce, so stronger, national traceability systems will give our producers greater confidence their hard work will be rewarded and our customers confidence in their purchases."

Hungry for romance

Australian-made rom-com series Wolf Like Me is a love story with a surprising twist that reflects how scary a new relationship can be, writes Lauren Mitchell

Finding love isn't easy these days. It can get pretty complicated when we all bring our own set of baggage to a new relationship.

That's where Wolf Like Me, a fresh and subversive romantic comedy series from Little Monsters writer-director Abe Forsythe, comes in.

The show, a genre-defying and heartfelt drama produced by Jodi Matterson (Nine Perfect Strangers), Bruna Papandrea (Big Little Lies) and Steve Hutensky (The Dry) is based on Forsythe's own life experiences as a 40-something single parent.

Josh Gad stars as Gary, a widowed dad living in Adelaide who's been very unsuccessful in his attempts to find love again, mostly because his focus is always on connecting with his 11-year-old daughter Emma (Ariel Donoghue).

When Mary (Isla Fisher), a dynamic and mysterious stranger, crashes into their car, she forms a sudden and strong bond with anxiety-stricken Emma that leaves Gary speechless.

Several coincidences and chance meetings later, it becomes clear that something between Mary and Gary is meant to be, but Mary has a complicated history of her own and is wary of bringing someone into her life.

A romantic lead role isn't where viewers would usually find Gad, a Broadway star who's known for his work on comedy series Avenue 5 and The Comedians and – perhaps most famously – as the voice of snowman Olaf in Frozen, which is exactly why Forsythe cast him as Gary.

"I worked with Josh on my last movie, so I got to know him really well, and I knew what a fantastic actor he is, but also what a great father he is, too," Forsythe told journalist Berge Garabedian.

"Just knowing that I hadn't seen him play something like that before – dramatically, he's such a great actor."

"I'm a big believer that in order to be good at comedy, you have to be dramatically sound as an actor. These aren't the roles that you would be expecting to see them in, and a big [part] of this story is about subverting expectations and to not judge a book by its cover."

For Fisher, it's likewise a welcome departure from the ditzy love interest roles like Wedding Crashers and Confessions of a Shopaholic that she's typically cast in.

"The idea of playing, you know, in a sort-of genre-bending piece, is obviously something I've never been offered before," Fisher told Stan's Renee Bargh.

"I loved how beautiful these characters were, how flawed they were."

Playing opposite Gad sweetened the deal for the Australian actress, who jumped at the chance to work alongside her friend.

"I knew that we'd have a great time, and obviously when you play in a love story, you need to know the chemistry's there and I felt secure that I could pull that bit off," she said.

That chemistry between Mary and Gary is evident from their first encounter, and continues off-screen.

"I came on board after Isla, and quite a big part of the reason why I wanted to do it was because I had been obsessed with Isla for years," Gad confessed to Bargh.

"I had wanted to work with her forever – we were actually looking at another project together. And, then this one sort of happened and I read the script and just fell in love with it, fell in love with the idea of working with her, with Abe [Forsythe] again, after Little Monsters, and it was just, it was easy."

The third and final piece of the casting puzzle was Donoghue, who portrays Gary's daughter Emma with vulnerability, but also a wisdom beyond her years. Forsythe went through an extensive process to find the right actor for the role.

"She's got a face that, you put the camera on her, and it's saying so much without doing practically anything," the filmmaker said.

"It's kind of scary, actually, how much the camera picks up and how little she does, particularly because she's only 12 years old."

IT'S ABOUT PUTTING YOUR FEARS ASIDE AND JUMPING INTO THE UNKNOWN WHEN IT SEEMS UNBELIEVABLY FRAUGHT WITH DANGER, AND CHAOS, AND ALL OF THOSE THINGS

Forsythe directed the trio to play Wolf Like Me straight, as an earnest love story, but there is a piquant twist hidden in plain sight that brings plenty of comedy to the situation. It's a secret best kept under lock and key for viewers, but helps make sense of celebrated comedy-horror filmmaker Forsythe's sudden and surprising move into romance.

"The more seriously and dramatically they play the material, the funnier it becomes once you realise what they're actually dealing with," Forsythe said.

However, it takes some time for the twist to be revealed, allowing Mary and Gary to explore their newfound bond and the incredible set of circumstances they find themselves in.

"For me, to be honest it was about withholding it for as long as possible," Forsythe said.

"At the end of the day, it's meant to be something scary, but I think that there's something quite beautiful about it, as well."

While it turns out that Mary and Gary's relationship has some pretty uncommon and extreme hurdles in their way, the series still shows a remarkably relatable courtship process.

"I think it's a drama about the obstacles, or the baggage, we overcome to enjoy a romantic relationship and feel vulnerable and safe, having intimacy with another person," Fisher said.

"It's about putting your fears aside and jumping into the unknown when it seems unbelievably fraught with danger, and chaos, and all of those things," Gad added.

"These two, from their first chance encounter, it's like fate is putting out a hand and reaching in and forcing them together to allow both of them to come out of their shells."

PICK OF THE WEEK

Best in the west:
Denzel Washington leads the cast of The Magnificent Seven.

STRENGTH IN NUMBERS

Saturday
THE MAGNIFICENT SEVEN
Nine, 7.30pm, M (2016)

Antoine Fuqua (Training Day) assembled a suitably magnificent cast for his reboot of the classic western (itself a remake of Kurosawa's Seven Samurai). Denzel Washington, Chris Pratt, Ethan Hawke, Vincent D'Onofrio, Byung-Hun Lee, Manuel Garcia-Rulfo and Martin Sensmeier are the Seven, and they are up against Peter Sarsgaard as businessman Bartholomew Bogue. The townspeople, led by widow Emma Cullen (Haley Bennett), have had about enough of being under Bogue's control, so they hire this rag-tag bunch to help them take it back. With shoot-em-up action and nostalgia on its side, it's simply good fun. ★★★★★

WILD TARGET
ABC TV Plus, Friday, 8.30pm, M (2010)

Victor Maynard (Bill Nighy) is a top assassin-for-hire carrying on the family tradition. His latest job is to eliminate Rose (Emily Blunt), a feisty kleptomaniac who works a fake portrait scam. As Victor is making his attempt on Rose, Tony (Rupert Grint) stumbles upon the pair, and after some initial missteps, the three become a family of sorts, with screen legend Eileen Atkins (Robin Hood) chiming in as the overbearing matriarch. An agreeable comedy in the English tradition. ★★★★★

THE BOURNE IDENTITY
Nine, Friday, 8.40pm, M (2002)

After decades of spy thrillers involving girls, gadgets and little else, the genre received a shot in the arm from director Doug Liman. The riveting yarn kicks off with the discovery of amnesiac Jason Bourne (Matt Damon) by a crew of Italian fishermen. Given no clues to his identity except for the bullet holes in his back and the Swiss bank account number implanted in his hip, Mr Bourne embarks on a mission to discover who he is. This action-thriller is a rarity – it has brains. ★★★★★

HOME AGAIN
10 Shake, Saturday, 7.45pm, M (2017)

Reese Witherspoon stars as single mum in Los Angeles whose life takes an unexpected turn when she allows three young guys (Nat Wolff, Jon Rudnitsky and Pico Alexander) to move in with her. Her unlikely new family and new romance come to a crashing halt when her ex-husband (Michael Sheen) shows up. Written and directed by Hallie Meyers-Shyer, the daughter of rom-com queen Nancy Meyers (Something's Gotta Give), this film holds no surprises but plenty of heart. ★★★★★

BILL & TED'S EXCELLENT ADVENTURE
9Go!, Sunday, 7pm, PG (1989)

Director Stephen Herek's trip through time still packs plenty of laughs at the expense of dumb buddies Bill (Alex Winter) and Ted (Keanu Reeves). The harmless duo need to prepare a history assignment if they are to graduate and their hopes seem worse than slim. However, a time machine may just save their bacon. You'd think the constant exclamations of "Party on, dudes!" and "Excellent!" would wear thin, but to the credit of an endearing Reeves and Winter, it doesn't. ★★★★★

DEN OF THIEVES
9Go!, Monday, 8.30pm, MA15+ (2018)

An elite unit of the LA County Sheriff's Department and California's most successful bank robbery crew go head-to-head in a thrilling and gritty crime saga from first-time director Christian Gudegast. Gerard Butler is 'Big Nick' O'Brien, the leader of the 'good' guys, while Pablo Schreiber is Outlaws leader Ray, who has a plan for a seemingly impossible heist on the city's Federal Reserve. The tension between the pair threatens to explode at any moment and makes for a gripping battle.. ★★★★★

X-MEN: FIRST CLASS
7Flix, Tuesday, 8.30pm, M (2011)

This prequel to the X-Men films takes us back to 1944 when a young Erik Lehnsherr (Michael Fassbender) – better known as Magneto – sees his mother killed by Nazi scientist Sebastian Shaw (Kevin Bacon). Fast forward to 1962, and Erik, in his search for revenge, crosses paths with Charles Xavier (James McAvoy). British director Matthew Vaughn (Kick-Ass) ties all the strands together, keeping the spirit of the franchise alive while substantially improving its legitimacy. ★★★★★

The Guide

Turned upside-down: Gavin (Irish actor Eoin Macken) tries to make sense of the inexplicable in new series La Brea.

PICK OF THE WEEK

LA BREA
Nine, Monday,
9.10pm

Who could forget the cult series Lost? As possibly one of the best TV series ever made, it's only natural there will be other shows that copy its mysterious, sci-fi flavour. Melbourne-made series La Brea, premiering tonight, leans heavily into the sci-fi, while also indulging in a wallop of disaster drama. When an enormous sinkhole suddenly opens up in Los Angeles, hundreds of people fall into an unexplainable primeval world. Expect a raft of predictable dialogue as the Harris family are separated and must find a way to be reunited. Fortunately, Gavin (Eoin Macken) discovers the apparitions that have haunted him for yonks might hold the key to bringing his family home.

BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS Seven, Friday, 7pm

Host Johanna Griggs (pictured) and the trusty crew return with season 28 of this Aussie favourite this week. Adam makes an entrance, literally, with a front-door makeover to remember; while Joh and Charlie check out Rosedale Farm, near Orange in NSW. Karen takes inspiration from the Winter Olympics with hong shao rou, a Shanghai specialty; while Ed makes two Chinese dishes that the whole family will enjoy. Staying on theme, Graham is transported to China with a visit to Sydney's Chang Lai Yuan Chinese garden.

AINSLEY'S GOOD MOOD FOOD SBS Food, Saturday, 7.35pm

Larger-than-life British chef Ainsley Harriott (pictured) is onto a winner with this new series – and that's not just because he breaks into song whenever he feels like it. Harriott has a zest for life that can't be ignored. Based on his book of the same name, this foodie adventure sees him cooking on the beach (his favourite spot) as well as the kitchen (another place he obviously loves). The show is all about food that makes him feel good and the feeling is infectious. It's hard to object with Harriott's fervour.

JOANNA LUMLEY AND THE HUMAN SWAN ABC TV, Tuesday, 9.30pm

The Absolutely Fabulous star charts Australian-born conservationist Sacha Dench's (pictured, right, with Lumley) quest to raise awareness about climate change in this wholesome doco. Dench got her nickname after following a flock of swans on their three-month migration journey. Here, she uses the same method of transportation – a battery powered hang-glider called a paramotor – to journey along the British coast, while Lumley follows on land, and they meet folk making a difference.

TDC are happy to bring to the market an exceptional opportunity to purchase two properties totaling approximately 521ha/1287.5ac in a high rainfall area, being offered as non contingent lots. 58 Riddoch St, Penola

HISTORIC COBB & CO

Located on premier Riddoch Street, in the historic precinct of Penola, can be found 58 Riddoch St; A commercial premise offering business ventures new or old an attractive freehold. The historic Cobb & Co building has a story to tell, a throwback to a bygone era. Built in the 1850's, this charming building was once a cheese and butter factory and later tearooms, restaurant and food manufacturing and distribution facility. Today, the two are joined by a single-story weatherboard-clad service section, comprising male and female toilet facilities and a recently upgraded commercial kitchen.

A veranda of generous proportions ties the spaces together and makes an undercover thoroughfare through to the large open garden (1,086m<sup>2</sup>) at the rear. Here, out of the weather and with an outlook over to the Mary MacKillop Interpretive Centre, would make an ideal alfresco extension for a wide range of possible uses. Set on a substantial 1,086m<sup>2</sup> corner allotment with dual access, ample street parking and plenty of land to make more improvements; This one-off property is versatile and flexible - a rare find with multiple spaces (and plenty of space) at play.

Exceptional - “St Aubins”

TDC Livestock and Property are exceptionally pleased to offer to the public market for just the second time; “St Aubins”, consisting of 1313 acres and well located in the tightly held Frances area.

“St Aubins”, with its reliable rainfall, heavy, grading to medium loam soils, large gums and character stone and weather board home set within established English trees is both aesthetically pleasing and productive.

The dwelling, featuring but not limited to six bedrooms, three bathrooms and a large sitting room has the elements of grandeur associated with the wool boom, with polished timber floors, high ceilings, open fireplaces with marble inlay and built-in cabinetry.

A second dwelling has four bedrooms and an upgraded bathroom, polished timber floors and high ceilings and offers more than comfortable living.

Further improvements include the six-stand woolshed with large capacity k-rail yards, machinery shed and a five bedroom shearers quarters with kitchen and meeting room.

The property has been used for breeding and fattening sheep and cropping, with beans, wheat and clover being harvested over the past several years.

A feature of the property is the 32ha pivot irrigation, currently sown to clover and rye grass and the 282.66megL water licence.

The offering of “St Aubins” for the second time to the public market affords the rare opportunity to purchase a true mixed farming enterprise within a tightly held, productive area.

“St Aubins” has a history of turning out quality livestock and crops alike, and with the additional benefit of pivot irrigation, securing this asset should be a priority to anyone looking to expand their agricultural holdings.

PROPERTY GUIDE

Wallpapering your rooms doesn't have to be hard as long as you have the essentials right.

Making wallpaper work

EVERYTHING old is new again, and that includes home DIY projects. The latest one to make a comeback? Wallpapering!

No longer just a daggy pastime, wallpapering is enjoying a resurgence. It adds personality and quirkiness and is a quick way to liven up a space. It's also a great way to show off your taste and style, as today's wallpaper comes in hundreds of patterns and colours.

Wallpapering often ends up - wrongly - in the too-hard basket, as homeowners believe it to be too tricky to take on themselves. But armed with a bit of know-how, you can makeover your room with relative ease - and top it off with the pride of knowing you did it yourself!

CHOOSE YOUR PRINT

Before you get started, think about the look you are trying to create and have a look for the wallpaper that might make it happen. Pinterest is always a good place to start, and once you start looking you'll find that many local homewares and hardware stores stock a good supply of wallpaper. Apart from colour and pattern, many types of wallpaper are embossed, adding texture to your walls too. The material that the paper is made from is also important - in wet areas like kitchens, opt for vinyl - but for hallways and bedrooms, paper or fabric will work just fine.

These days, when it comes to wallpaper the only limit is your imagination. For example, you don't necessarily have to paper the entire wall - if that's too much for you, why not try creating a focal point for the room with a framed section of wallpaper? Go for something bold and bright to draw the eye, and use it as the feature of that particular space - it's a guaranteed conversation starter!

GET PAPERING

There are plenty of specific tutorials online; however there are a few key things to keep in mind when you get stuck in. Firstly, the wallpaper you choose will provide instructions as to what adhesive to use. It's important to use the right one so that your wallpaper sticks to the surface correctly. Measure the space to work out how much you'll need, but always order an extra two or four rolls - accidents happen! Additionally, it's vital to start with a smooth wall, so break out the sandpaper and get scrubbing. And when you get to the end, don't panic if you see bubbles - there are ways to fix them and get a nice smooth finish without having to tear the whole thing down.

NOT JUST FOR WALLS

It might sound strange given the name, but wallpaper isn't just for walls anymore. Nowadays, designers are experimenting with papering all kinds of surfaces, like kitchen appliances, to add interest or, conversely, to hide that bland metal cover and help it better blend with the aesthetic of the room. If you're into restoration, or just trying to bring new life to that tired old desk or chest of drawers, wallpaper just might be the answer. Many a plain wooden furniture item has taken on new purpose after being decorated with strips of colours and patterns. This style of wallpapering often works well with the shabby chic style - but don't be afraid to branch out and do it your way!

When the going gets hot

UPDATING your home's backyard exterior into a poolside paradise, or a divine outdoor dining area that you won't want to leave this summer can be simple with a mini makeover and a lick of paint.

Dulux colour expert Andrea Lucena-Orr says using lashings of pastels like salmon pinks and mint greens against core exterior neutrals – crisp whites, concrete greys and natural stone – can add a sense of playfulness and visual delight, and will have you feeling like you've been transported to an exotic tropical destination.

"When it comes to introducing colour into your backyard spaces, it pays to be adventurous, challenging any preconceived notions you may have about what's right and wrong in this space. Even a small quantity of an unexpected colour through a geometric pattern on a retainer wall, or a vibrant accent wall in your pool house can make a bold statement," Andrea says.

She advised using colours such as mint, dusty pinks combined with a vivid white in areas like the fence and pool house to create a striking backdrop - evoking a sense of modern glamour, fun and energy that can often be associated with being poolside at a luxury hotel.

"For a more nurturing, nature-inspired look, try pairing rich turquoise greens and deep blue-greys with warm whites, like Dulux Natural White, on your outdoor fireplace, dining area, furniture, or decorative accessories, such as mats and plant pots. These shades, while seemingly simple, will provide a sense of holiday-comfort we all crave in the summer months."

Tackling an outdoor painting project like these can be completed in just one weekend – meaning you'll still have plenty of time to host and toast this summer once the DIY makeover is complete.

Here are some painting tips and tricks to help you achieve these looks in your own home:

- 1: Sand all dressed timber.
- 2: For timber surfaces, fill nail holes with a flexible, exterior wood-filler.
- 3: Ensure filled/putty surface is sound by conducting an adhesion test.
4. Test the adhesion on all previously painted surfaces by cutting a small 'X' through the existing paint with a sharp blade, press cellulose tape firmly across the cut and then rip off the tape. If the paint comes off, it is unsound and should be removed.

On Demand

Double exposure:
Lily James and Sebastian Stan as Pamela Anderson and Tommy Lee.

THE FAME GAME

PAM & TOMMY
Streaming,
Star on Disney+

In the early days of the internet, years before leaked intimate footage of starlets Paris Hilton and Kim Kardashian propelled their names and careers into the stratosphere, the world's first celebrity sex tape – Stolen Honeymoon, featuring Mötley Crüe drummer Tommy Lee and his Baywatch star wife, Pamela Anderson – fuelled a new level of public interest in celebrity's lives.

Pam & Tommy, a new Disney+ series, tells the story of the couple's whirlwind '90s marriage, the unauthorised release of their intimate moments and ensuing legal drama.

It stars an unrecognisable Lily James (Mamma Mia! Here We Go Again) and Sebastian Stan (Captain America: The Winter Soldier). With the help of special-effects prosthetics, makeup, fake tattoos and piercings, it's hard to distinguish the actors from their real-life counterparts.

The tape – which was stolen by scorned handyman Rand Gauthier (Seth Rogen) and distributed quietly in bootleg-VHS form for two years before landing on the internet – made a cultural hero out of Lee, while Anderson became the punchline of jokes around the world, shamed and constantly objectified.

The double standard in their treatment is a poignant takeaway from this series, which succeeds in its attempts to redeem Anderson's humanity and earn sympathy for the actress in telling her side of the story, but curiously does so without the real Anderson's approval.

THE AFTERPARTY
Streaming, Apple TV+

Rewriting the rules of murder-mystery, this comedy charts the police investigation after a pop star (Dave Franco) is killed at his high-school reunion afterparty. Tiffany Haddish (pictured) interrogates the guests (played by Ben Schwartz, Ilana Glazer, Jamie Demetriou and Ike Barinholtz), who each have their own unique recollection of what happened.

PRUE'S GREAT GARDEN PLOT
Streaming, BritBox

Restaurateur, writer and Great British Bake Off judge Prue Leith (pictured) is stepping out of the famed tent for this new series. Along with husband John Playfair, Leith has moved into a converted barnhouse surrounded by rubble and garbage, with a plan to transform its overgrown garden into a beautiful plot bursting with life and colour, in just one year.

THE WOMAN IN THE HOUSE ACROSS THE STREET FROM THE GIRL IN THE WINDOW
Streaming, Netflix

This delightfully dark thriller parodies the likes of The Girl on the Train but still has plenty of twists of its own. Kristen Bell (pictured) stars as Anna, a woman just going through the motions of life, glass of wine in hand, until she witnesses a murder... or at least she thinks she does.

THE FALLOUT
Streaming, Binge

An emotional journey that cuts to the heart of tragedy, trauma and the healing process, The Fallout stars Jenna Ortega (Scream) and Maddie Ziegler (pictured, left, with Ortega) as two high school students from who are brought together after surviving a school shooting. It's an incredible, moving debut from writer-director Megan Park.

RAISED BY WOLVES
Streaming,
Foxtel On Demand

In a new setting, with a host of new threats, season two of this slick sci-fi drama from Ridley Scott (House of Gucci) finds androids Mother (Amanda Collin, pictured, with Felix Jameson as Paul) and Father (Abubakar Salim) in a whole new world of trouble as her 'natural child' threatens the future of the human race.

Your year ahead
Independent Aquarians find it impossible to work in someone else's shadow. This year, however, the planets encourage co-operation. You're also more willing to delegate and share responsibilities. Even though Saturn may occasionally throw a spanner in the works, you have prosperous Jupiter on side. With Uranus also offering generous support, there's no telling what good fortune will come your way. This year, you're determined to soak in as much life experience as you can. Saturated in enthusiasm and charm, you can't help but draw your fair share of admirers. Money, too.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr 20)
This week Mercury and the Moon grant you permission to make changes. If you feel it's time to move on, do so. While you can't change the past - take comfort in knowing that every new day can lead to new beginnings. Start thinking positively, and then just watch your world expand. Love isn't out of the question, either.
Best Day: Sunday 6th

TAURUS
(Apr 21 - May 20)
It's a week when forward-moving Mercury seems extremely interested in putting you in the spotlight. This chatty planet will magnify and expand whatever's happening with your work, career and how others see you. Consequently, you may receive a promotion or new job offer. If nothing else, expect to make important decisions.
Best Day: Monday 7th

GEMINI
(May 21 - Jun 21)
Your ruling planet, Mercury, once again powers forward - so use this week to resolve any misunderstandings or confusion, and restart delayed work or business plans. This week's message is "full speed ahead". So pay attention, Gemini: someone or something important is about to enter your life.
Best Day: Friday 11th

CANCER
(Jun 22 - Jul 22)
Mercury stridently steps forward towards success and takes you along for the ride. You've been in a holding pattern for some time and if anything has become stagnant - this is your chance to press refresh. Use your newly-reignited charms to form a new business or romantic partnership. Nothing can stop you now.
Best Day: Saturday 12th

LEO
(Jul 23 - Aug 23)
An amorous Mercury stirs Leo intimacies. You enter a week of experimentation with love. If you've been a loner of late, you may now need more friendship. If you're usually surrounded with plenty of friends, you could prefer the company of a few. Either way, it's a week to break out of any physical, emotional or spiritual rut.
Best Day: Wednesday 9th

LIBRA
(Sep 23 - Oct 23)
Should life flow faster than usual, don't panic. The universe rarely asks us to cope with situations we're not ready for. This week, too, it's important to express emotions - even the darker side of your character. If a separation has been brewing, it could be time to make the move. If at a crossroads, someone older could offer advice.
Best Day: Thursday 10th

VIRGO
(Aug 24 - Sep 22)
Plans have been kept on hold lately. Maybe you've surrendered to others' demands? Not so this week. Your ruling planet, Mercury, once again powers forward - and so do you. What about those who've tried to take advantage of you? They suffer a short, sharp shock. Others should never mess with your quiet, but forceful, temper.
Best Day: Friday 11th

SCORPIO
(Oct 24 - Nov 22)
Often, your best ideas remain dormant in your imagination. Not so now. A super-charged Mercury offers you blue skies and boundless horizons. Some days, it all looks so good that you're ready to promise almost anything to make the most of the moment. Just use your common sense. If already attached - love feels passionate, and very right.
Best Day: Tuesday 8th

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov 23 - Dec 21)
Grab this week of sanity and ride it for all it's worth, Sagittarius. Thanks to a happier Mercury, your thought processes fall back into a sensible order, helping you to approach projects rationally. You're better able to cope under pressure, thanks to the use of logic and the power of focus. Expect a well-earned change in lifestyle in the weeks to come.
Best Day: Saturday 12th

CAPRICORN
(Dec 22 - Jan 20)
This week brings a better understanding of life's quirkier rules and, thanks to a savvy Mercury, you start to play the game more skilfully. Just don't assume you know it all. After all, life is a constant journey - so stay open to new experiences and learning. You also get another chance to achieve goals which seemed elusive in the past.
Best Day: Tuesday 8th

AQUARIUS
(Jan 21 - Feb 18)
Forget about being sensible. Here's a week when the planets encourage a walk on the wild side. Play outrageously, dress precociously. Go on, Aquarius - create some brand-new memories for that dusty old scrapbook. A quick fling with an entirely unsuitable character just might tempt you.
Best Day: Wednesday 9th

PISCES
(Feb 19 - Mar 20)

Fringe receives green light

CHARLOTTE VARCOE

charlotte.varcoe@tbwtoday.com.au

IT may not be a street party but a free Mount Gambier Fringe Festival event will once again be held.

After the cancellation of the street party last year, festival goers will be excited to know a smaller but similar event will be held next month at the Mount Gambier Showgrounds.

'Fringeland' will host a generous range of activities and entertainment for family and friends of all ages in a Covid-19 safe manner.

Marketing and design manager Talie Teakle said it was exciting to be able to host a free family friendly event once again.

"One of the main comments we received after last year was that people missed the street party element," Ms Teakle said.

"Although we can't host the street party, we can do the next best thing which is a lift-off event at the showgrounds."

Working closely with SA Health and the Mount Gambier Showgrounds committee, Ms

Teakle said it would be a night to remember for the community.

"We chose the showgrounds because we knew the venue would be able to host a large, Covid-friendly event after the show last year," she said.

"It is exciting to be able to host a free community event and it will take a lot of work with a lot of volunteers but we are looking forward to it."

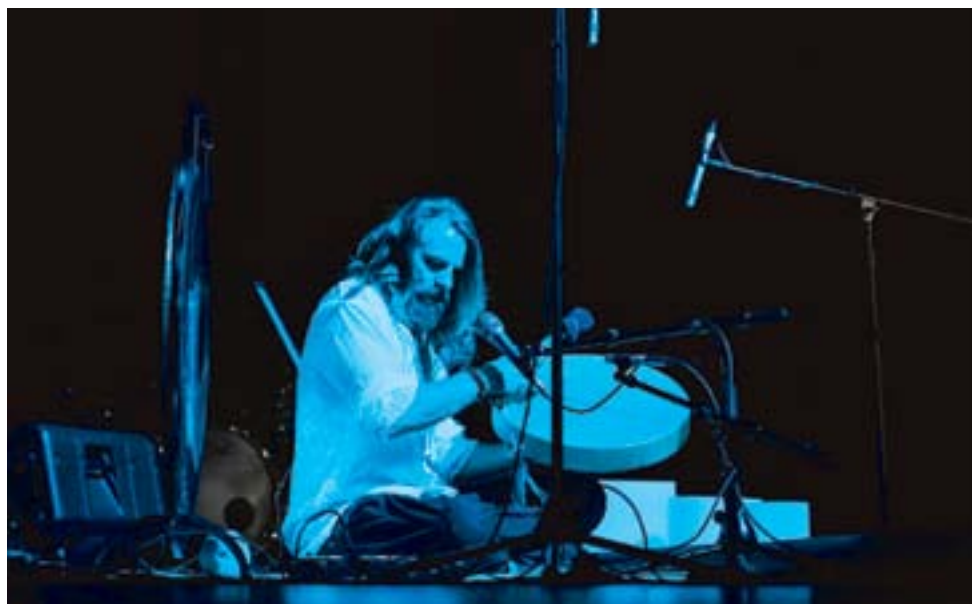

Ms Teakle said volunteers who wished to help with the main event were also welcome to get in touch with the committee and join in.

"We are in need of volunteers because there will be a lot of Covid marshalling that will need to be done," she said.

"We have put out a callout for helpers and are hoping the community can support us."

The event will support artists like Peter Combe, theatrical performances, acrobatics and a twilight market

The 'Fringeland' event will begin at the Mount Gambier Showgrounds at 4.30pm on Friday, March 25.

Debut album for local band

CHARLOTTE VARCOE

charlotte.varcoe@tbwtoday.com.au

ALTERNATIVE metal band Pridelands has released its debut album 'Light Bends' after years in the making.

Originally from Mount Gambier, the five-piece band has produced a well-blended mix of heavy and soft songs for the album.

Since moving to Melbourne, the band has released a variety of EPs before spending a number of years developing the new album.

Signed with Sharptone Records and Resist Records, guitarist Liam Fowler said the band members were excited to finally release the album.

"We wanted a more balanced and not heavy album and we also wanted to express more vocal range than previously," Mr Fowler said.

"One of the songs on the album was our first demo in 2017 and after we finished recording our last EP that was really the beginning of it."

The album took the band five years to complete with Mr Fowler stating it was an exciting time.

"We have been sitting on it for about 18-months because it was one of those things where you only have to do a debut album once and we wanted to get it right," he said.

"We were forced to be patient and wanted to get the album out there but it was a matter of doing it once."

He said the inspiration for the songs came from a range of different areas with all band members contributing.

"It is hard to pinpoint where the inspiration comes from as some of it came from our drummer, some came from our vocalists and all in all it is just a mix of different flavours," Mr Fowler said.

"The main influence from all of us was that we wanted to be 100 per cent authentically us and what felt right rather than forcing something."

"If we were trying to force something it wouldn't be the right thing to do in the first place."

Since leaving Mount Gambier, the band has been on numerous national tours and released a catalogue of singles and EPs.

"We have played at Unify, and we will be playing again in the coming months as well as going on our first album tour," Mr Fowler said.

"It will be really cool and exciting to be able to go back and play in front of people again."

The album is available for listening on streaming services with vinyls also available for purchase.

CURIOUS MINDS EXHIBITION: Kookaburra laughing in flowering red gum by Iris Frame.

Two exhibitions at Riddoch

TWO new exhibitions will open at the Riddoch Arts and Cultural Centre on Saturday.

'Curious Minds: Women of the South East' will present the work of three iconic women of the region, known for their independent spirit and enduring art legacy, while 'Petrichor' will showcase video work by artist Georgia Button.

'Curious Minds' will feature an extensive selection of works from the Riddoch Collection by iconic local artists including Cathleen Edkins, Iris Fram and Lorry Humphreys.

"Born between 1915 and 1930, these three women not only lived through World War II, but also witnessed the beginnings of the 21st century," Riddoch Arts and Cultural Team Leader Curatorial Serena Wong said.

"Their lives span an incredible period in Australia, and while they all lived in this region over a similar period, their work reflects their individuality more than their similarities - which is what makes it so interesting to show their work together - all of them were working in the regions, outside of urban centres, determinedly carving their own path."

"Cathleen Edkins loved to paint en plein air, and her many landscapes and depiction of horses really demonstrate where her heart lay.

"Iris Frame, on the other hand, created wonderful characters and stories that described local natural and social phenomena around her, with a colourful and chaotic energy, while Lorry's work in the Riddoch Collection is driven by abstraction and use of colour and line in bold ways," Ms Wong said.

Georgia Button is a South Australian based multidisciplinary artist, working primarily with video, sound and installation.

Her exhibition 'Petrichor' is named after the word that described the smell of rain after a period of warm dry weather, drawing on her experience of growing up on a farm in the mid-north region of South Australia.

"Petrichor is immersive, meditative work that reflects on what it means to come from generations of farmers," Ms Wong said.

"Taking an intimate look at seemingly mundane or everyday scenes, it is a poetic and thoughtful narrative about the ground we stand on and how we live and interact with it."

'Curious Minds' will be at the Riddoch Centre until March 27 while 'Petrichor' will be on display until April 3.

New rose varieties this year

BRIAN WAGNER
Kalangadoo rose grower

THIS year we have 26 new rose varieties, created by the best international and Australian rose breeders and just introduced to our market.

We already mentioned the three new David Austin roses, and we now want to share with you some of the other varieties we've just added to our catalogue – beautiful new colours for your garden, to order now for delivery in winter time.

MANGO TANGO

This is a healthy and compact bush, growing up to 120cm high and with an abundance of flowers in an apricot-orange with a yellow centre.

Mango Tango is versatile and makes an exceptional low hedge rose, also suitable for pots and semi shaded areas.

FAIRY GODMOTHER

This beautiful rose has gorgeous double blooms repeatedly throughout the Summer, in a timeless pink-lilac colour.

The bush is compact and very healthy – 100cm high and 70cm wide - with varnished green foliage; it will be eye catching in any garden space.

SINGAPORE FAR EAST MOON

Its blooms are soft yellow with a hint of apricot, aging to buff: a lovely Australian bred rose, growing up to 85cm high, and named in honour of the nurses killed following the fall of Singapore in 1942.

This rose is to commemorate the victims of the War in the Far East on the 80th anniversary - the servicemen and women, POW's and civilians.

NEW PAPA MEILLAND

What better way to honour the original and popular Papa Meilland than this stunning new rose from the Meilland® family.

New Papa Meilland has classic deep velvet red perfectly formed blooms, each with a strong fragrance that begs to be sniffed.

The bush grows up to 150cm high, is hardy and healthy and produces flowers continuously throughout the season.

SPIRIT OF COMMUNITY

A beautiful Hybrid Tea variety that holds its formal blooms erect, displaying a compact rose bush growing up to 100cm high.

This rose with its many shades and hues from white to pink, along with mauve overtones, celebrates and expresses the communities' diversity.

New papa meilland

Introduced for the City of Wanneroo to reflect the spirit of the local community and the broader Australian ethos, its tight formal blooms are a reflection of the tight knit community of Wanneroo.

MANUEL CANOVAS

An excellent shrub rose of character and a great energy! Its visible vitality is displayed with many well drawn stems, exhibiting beautiful flowers and shown off by the vigorous and robust foliage framing the roses. The white flowers, highlighted by a yellow shade, bloom profusely throughout the year.

A lovely and not overpowering fragrance finishes this rose off and makes it a must have for your garden.

Named after the Interior Designer, Manuel Canovas, it grows up to 150cm high.

HAPPY Valentine's DAY

14th February

A day for sweethearts

ELLE CECIL

AS Valentine's Day approaches on Monday February 14, it's important to remember that while its true origins are not completely understood, it is now celebrated as a time to shower those you love, whether it be in a familial, platonic or romantic way.

Hollywood stars and characters are famous for their passionate words, so read on to be inspired to love this February 14.

Romantic relationships

Whether you go all out for your romantic partner or make a small but meaningful gesture, they are sure to appreciate your efforts in showing your affection.

Be it a candlelit restaurant date, romantic adventure outdoors or cosy night on the couch with takeaway food, it's not how you spend your Valentine's Day, but with whom you spend it.

"When you realise you want to spend the rest of your life with somebody, you want the rest of your life to start as soon as possible."

- Harry Burns, When Harry Met Sally

"No measure of time will be long enough... Let's start with forever."

- Edward Cullen, The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn - Part 1

Family and friends

Sending friends and family a message to let them know you're thinking of them on Valentine's Day will make them feel special, in a time where many people might be struggling.

A simple message along the lines of "Happy Valentine's Day, lots of love," with some cute emojis will go a long way to brightening your loved ones' days.

"I want to be loved while I'm here, and the only way to get love is to give love."

- Snoop Dogg

"A promise between friends means never having to give a reason."

- Phoebe Buffay, Friends

"All that really matters is that the people you love are happy and healthy. Everything else is just sprinkles on the sundae."

- Paul Walker

Love yourself

Regardless of whether you have a romantic partner or not, it is also important to practice self-love this Valentine's Day.

The pandemic has had a tremendous impact on many people's self-esteem and confidence, so perhaps treat yourself to a nice bottle of wine, box of chocolates or spa day. Indulge in your passions, make yourself feel special, loved and alive.

"Everybody needs a passion, that's what keeps life interesting. If you live without passion, you can go through life without leaving any footprints."

- Betty White

"I'm all about body positivity and self-love because I believe that we can save the world if we first save ourselves."

- Lizzo

No matter how you celebrate Valentine's Day, it's never too much to let your loved ones know how much you care for them.

WOMEN'S TRIPLES WINNERS: Barb Milstead, Maryka Heaver and Beryl Versluis.

WOMEN'S TRIPLES RUNNERS-UP: Leanne Hentschke, Kristy Errock and Kathy Gray.

Triples and pairs champions

THE Mount Gambier Bowls Championships Series continued under the roof at the Bob Cranwell Centre with the men's and women's triples and pairs rounding it off.

In the women's triples, the combination of Barb Milstead, Maryka Heaver and Beryl Versluis met the team of Kathy Gray, Leanne Hentschke and Kristy Errock with Versluis' team claiming the title.

The men's competition had 12 entries.

The team of Mick Ashby, Gary Hocking and Brad Errock made their way to the final where they met the combination of Peter Radley, Steve Farrell and Jeff England.

The final was played on Friday and, after a tight match, the England team claimed the men's triples championship.

The pairs championship rounded off the series with the women's final between Kathy Gray and Diana Harris against Kerry Pedlar and Beryl Versluis with the Harris-led pair becoming the ladies pairs champions.

The men's pairs had 16 teams enter and, after the preliminary rounds, the team of Jeff England and Steve Farrell met Peter Clark and Jim Philpott in the final.

Philpott's team got off to a good start with an early lead, only to be caught by England's team to take out the final in an extra end.

The win not only crowned the England/Farrell combination as pairs champions but also secured back-to-back championships for the duo after teaming up with Peter Radley to claim the triples title the week prior.

PENNANTS

After the championships, the pennant competition continued last Friday, with the women travelling to Millicent.

The rink of Alison Mitchell, Deanna Farenfield, Kerry Pedlar and Beryl Versluis enjoyed the day to secure a 24-15 win but, with the locals winning the other rink, the Mount Gambier side returned home with a narrow 41-44 loss.

On Saturday under the roof at home, the Division 1 Blues played host to Robe in a match up only three rounds before the finals.

The locals secured the valuable 12 points with the stars of the day being the rink of Tim Radley, Daryl Raneberg, Brad Errock and Ian Von Stanke who enjoyed a 34-18 win over the Peter Roachock led visitors.

The win lifted the Blues into second place and in a good position to secure a double chance in the finals.

The Division 1 Reds travelled to Naracoorte but the locals managed to make up for last year's Grand Final defeat with a 79-58 victory.

The rink of John Reppin, Tony Renzi, Greg Carpenter and Tony Bowditch were able to secure two points with a 21-20 win over their opponents.

The two points were enough to ensure the Reds will finish the season on top and host the semi finals at the Bob Cranwell Centre.

In Division 2, the Mount Gambier team won all three rinks for an impressive 86-50 win against the Naracoorte visitors.

The rink of Milton Chant, Maryka Heaver, Perria Davis and David Babb recorded a 35-9 win over the Deane Williams led visitors, giving the hosts the 12 points and lifting them away from the relegation zone.

The Division 4 Reds were home to cross town rivals Mt Gambier RSL Blue and sent the visitors home without any points.

Victories on all three rinks for the 80-56 win secured the valuable 12 points which helped lift them to the top spot on the ladder with two rounds to be played.

The best rink of the day were Kathy Gray, Ray Hutchesson, Diana Harris and John Kentish who dominated their opponents for a 30-18 win.

The Blues in Division 4 travelled to Millicent to play the local Blues and battled hard, winning one rink to eventually lose 75-65.

The rink of Neville Gilbertson, Eddie Otter, Ross Kilsby and Don Fraser were able to secure two points with their 28-24 win.

Hunters' Day for Penola Bowls Club

LAST Friday, two of the women's pennant teams at the Penola Bowls Club managed to sneak in a couple of wins.

While Division 1 went down first to Port MacDonnell 61-30, Division 2 had an impressive win over Naracoorte RSL 57-21, and Division 2 defeated Naracoorte by 17 shots.

On Saturday, Open Division 2 lost to Kingston 52-78, Division 3 went down to Robe 69-79 and Division 4 also went down to Kingston Red 66-87.

On Sunday, The Marj and Ron Hunter Memorial Day was held, sponsored by Maria and Ron Hunter Junior and Mt Gambier AutoCare.

The winners were skipper Cheryle Doderidge, Danny Gaut and Terry Stone from Port MacDonnell and Kaylene Tink from Penola.

Runners up were from Penola skipper Kathy Brooks, Eddie Brooks, Jean Rogers and Roger Gibbs.

Today, the women's Division 1 pennant team play at home against Mount Gambier RSL, Division 2 travels to Beachport to play Blue and Division 3 play at home against Lucindale.

HUNTER'S DAY RUNNERS-UP: Sponsor Maria Hunter with Roger Gibbs, Jean Rogers, Eddie Brooks, Kathy Brooks and sponsor Ron Hunter.

HUNTER'S DAY WINNERS: Sponsors Maria and Ron Hunter with winners Terry Stone, Cheryle Doderidge, Danny Gaut and Kaylene Tink.

GREAT WEEKEND: Billy had a great race over the weekend winning both races. Picture: Supplied

Sailors take seas as season starts

A CLOUDY day, with 11-16 knot winds, welcomed boats back to the water at Port MacDonnell for the second half of the sailing season.

Race officer, Evan Steele set a traditional Olympic course for both races of the day.

The day began with some drama, with the second person on the rescue boat needing to be replaced with an extra crew member from one of the racing boats.

Six boats took to the water to compete in the two back to back races.

The field was spread at the starting line with Sabre 'Billy' crossing the start line first followed by 'Minty', an Austral 20.

Some confusion about the placement of the first mark allowed Austral 20 'Windy Fred' to take the lead and they held on throughout the race giving them line honours, followed by Sabre 'Billy'.

Two legs of the course were shortened to allow for a quicker second race.

Once more 'Billy' was the first boat across the start line, with 'Windy Fred' close behind them.

All boats crossed the start line much closer to each other in the second race than they did the first one.

The shorter course allowed for the fleet to stay closer together for the second race.

This time 'Billy' was able to take line honours and Austral 20 'Mirage' came in second.

All six boats finished both races.

Class Basic Handicap Results:

- Race One: 1st Billy, 2nd Windy Fred, 3rd Minty, 4th Pinky, 5th Papillion, 6th Mirage.
- Race Two: 1st Billy, 2nd Mirage, 3rd Minty, 4th Windy Fred, 5th Papillion, 6th Pinky.

Success for Robe at home

THE women's Division 2 and 3 pennant bowls teams played home last weekend with varying success.

Division 2 played Beachport Red while Division 3 played Mount Gambier RSL.

Robe's Division 2 was defeated by Beachport Red 46 shots and 2 points to 51-6.

Judy Phillips, Pam Robinson, Helen Dawson and Judy Bermingham defeated Sue Young's team 26-18 while Lorraine Denning, Tracey Gray, Helen Lynch and Valma Jennings were defeated by Jill Preston's team 20-33.

Robe's Division 3 defeated Mount Gambier RSL 47-6 to 41-2.

Nesla Boundy, Clare DeLaine, Barbara Brown and Jan Fisk defeated Lyailey Chirgwin's team 28-13 and Maria Cooper, Nola Peel, Robyn Dahler and Ann Moore were defeated by Margaret Finniss's team 19-28.

Robe's Division 2 and Division 3 are both tied to hold third place on the ladder.

The open pennant had Division 1 playing in Mount Gambier while Division 3 played in Penola. Division 1 of Mount Gambier Blue defeated Robe's Division 1 86-12 to 56-0.

Harold Manton's team was defeated by Jeff England's team 25-13, David Robinson's team was defeated by Steve Farrell's team 27-25 and Peter Roachock's team was defeated by Ian Von Stanke's team 34-18.

Division 3 claimed a solid win over Penola, beating them 79-12 to 69-0.

Paul Truelove, Ross Denning, Mark Murphy and Deane Nankivell defeated Kathy Brooks' team 26-25.

Trevor Wagner, Barry Bennett, Jim Gray and Dean Woodward defeated Peter Starick's team 28-24 and Josh Waddell, Jo Sykes, Gordon Brown and Ali Douglas defeated Wayne Watchell's team 25-20.

Twenty-one players played two games of 12 ends with 2x2 game winners.

Runners-up on 55 points were Mark Murphy and Jim Gray, with the winners on 56 points going to Adrian Bermingham, and two visitors from Western Australia.

DAVID LEWIS
on the lure
GREYHOUND RACING

COMPTON based Tracie Price emulated his best-ever day at the race track when training a record equalling six winners for the 12-race card at Mount Gambier's Tara Raceway last Sunday.

Kicking off the day was four year old chaser Charley Davidson in the Masters event over 305 metres.

Following were Compton Fabio, Whole Way, Compton Casey, Minnie Banjo and Compton Ruby in the Rock's Tavern Grade Five final (512m).

Once again, Shannon, a member of the Horsham based syndicate Matt Moose Bruza Shannon Dyllan, made the trip over to watch Charley Davidson line up for his 103rd race start in the Exchange Printers Stake.

The trip was once again worthwhile.

The son of Barcia Bale x Oriental Jewel led all the way to bring up his sixth consecutive win at Tara Raceway over the short course distance.

Only track record holder Nellie Noodles has run faster than Whole Way over the 732 metre journey at Tara Raceway.

The son of Spring Gun x Springvale

Hope took the drop back to 512 metres in his stride in the Klaassens Contractors Stake.

Raced by Daniella Madalinski and Michael Ceravolo, Whole Way led all the way from box one, eventually running out an 8¼ length winner over Lily Pad in 29.62 seconds which was easily the best of the day.

Come the Greg Martlew Autos Open Stake (400 m) and Price had 512 metre track record holder Giant's Flash's litter sister Minnie Banjo also lining up for her sixth consecutive success after four local wins and one at Angle Park.

Raced by Garry Harding's Giant Crows Syndicate, the daughter of Banjo Boy x Nevada Flame soon found the front before running away to a four length win over Lily's Lad in a best of day 22.69 seconds.

Price trained greyhounds ran the trifecta in the grade five final, Compton Ruby finding the front down the back and holding on to defeat a fast finishing Starlight Dusty and the early leader Right Way in a time of 29.85 seconds.

An unheard of seven winners looked a distinct possibility after odds on favourite Rhonda Lily found the front early before being run down by Jason Newman's Locked who scored by 2¾ lengths in a quick 34.93 seconds in the Trackside Meats Mixed Stake (600m).

Price's last record winning day of six winners had been on Sunday, September 20, 2015 when Roma's Moment, Whatta Moment, Mellow And Black, Fear The Rascal, Pam's Boy and Who's Doing What had been successful.

The record for most wins at a Tara Raceway meeting is shared with Allendale East based David Peckham who was successful with Bourne Maximum, Call Me Billy, Fabs You Go, Squishy Pea, Dyna Carnie and Bourne Blackjack on Sunday, February 16, 2020.

It was a case of the previous week's Razza Racing Feature Maiden heat winners Zambora Jay and Sugar Freak fighting out the second running of the Tony and Lisa Rasmussen sponsored 305 metre final last Sunday.

Zambora Jay, after displaying brilliant early pace in his heat, was always going to be hard to beat when drawing box one in the final.

That's how it turned out, the fawn son of Orson Allen x Crazy Jo Jo opening up a handy break early over Sugar Freak before holding on to win by a length in 17.63 seconds.

Aston Olenna defeated Sianna Magic by two lengths in 17.49 seconds in the inaugural event last year.

The winner is trained at Koroit by Peter

Byrne who said the offer of the dog in early January came completely out of the blue after owner Charlie Azzopardi had been looking for someone to take Zambora Jay.

"He'd been placed at his first three starts at Cranbourne, Geelong and Ballarat and I knew the Razza Racing event was coming up so I figured he might be worth a try," he said.

"I did speak with the previous trainer, wondering why he had been looking to move the dog on so early in his career.

"He said 'every morning I'd come out and somehow he would have escaped from his kennel and I'd find him out on the main road'."

Byrne said so far he hadn't found Zambora Jay roaming the streets of Koroit.

Tony Rasmussen was on track for the Razza Racing final.

Speaking at the presentation, he thanked the Mount Gambier Greyhound Racing Club for the manner in which it conducts the race.

He also pledged his family's continued support for the event.

Rasmussen, SA's leading trainer, picked up a race of his own last Sunday when Express Speed led all the way in the Gambier Vets Stake (512m) to defeat Tapering Off by three lengths in 29.89 seconds.

Track passes initial test

david.gilbert@tbwtoday.com.au

IT was like a belated Christmas present and local trainers welcomed with open arms the opportunity to use the main track at Glenburnie last Tuesday morning for track work.

Forty one horses worked on two designated strips of the course proper, and to the delight of all concerned - especially track manager David Shepherdson - the track passed with flying colours.

"It was the best scenario you could get and they just glided over it," Shepherdson stated.

"There was no major damage and it was just beautiful."

Official trials will be conducted at Glenburnie next Friday morning in front of Racing SA officials and, if the expected all clear is given, racing will resume at Glenburnie on Wednesday, February 23.

TOUGH TITAN BACK TO HIS BEST

The jury was out to decide as to whether the Bordertown trained galloper Territory Titan was going to regain his old winning form this year.

After all, the six year old gelding had not won a race since March last year at Morphettville, and his two runs this campaign had not inspired punters to rally to his cause with unplaced efforts at Bordertown and Murray Bridge during January.

Territory Titan had really put trainer Jimmy Dodgson on the map since the galloper arrived from the Northern Territory in the autumn of 2019.

At his first start for the stable, Territory Titan won his maiden here at Mount Gambier on June 16, 2019 after being backed from 60/1 into 30/1.

Since then, he has won eight races including four in succession in the winter of 2020, and one of his best efforts was a fourth in the Listed $150,000 Golden Mile at Bendigo in March, 2021 when he led until the final stages at 40/1.

Last Saturday, the money trail suggested Territory Titan was fit and ready to produce his best in the 1600 metre BM 82 handicap at Morphettville.

Backed from $10 into $5, Territory Titan raced at the girth of the leader - and favourite - Tradewind until the 500 metre mark where he quickly assumed control and went on to win with plenty to spare by nearly two lengths for jockey Anna Jordsjo.

"It's pleasing that he could return to his old form on a good surface," Jimmy Dodgson said earlier this week.

"I was a bit worried on Saturday as the first four winners all came from last and he always races up near the lead.

"When he came to us, he had not won a cent in prize money on the dirt tracks in the Northern Territory and now he has won almost $240,000."

That win gave the new training combination of James and Lisa Dodgson their first city success since joining forces in December.

Already the pair have made their mark on South Australian racing with three winners, two seconds and a third from 10 starters.

Their first runner was Shock Alert, second in the Bordertown cup to Sebonna on December 12, and that horse gave them their first winner, also at Bordertown on January 5.

"It was always planned that Lisa and I would go into partnership at some stage," Dodgson added.

"Lisa used to ride track work at Lindsay Park and she does all the track work for our stable.

"We will look at keeping Territory Titan at races over a mile and there is a BM 78 race over that distance in Adelaide on February 12."

GETTING THE REWARD

To own a galloper that has won four races from a dozen starts is a good start in anyone's language.

When three of those wins have been at city level in Adelaide (the other was at Gawler), it makes life even sweeter.

That is the statistics for the Peter Hardacre trained Spin The Reward after he got the chocolates in the 1100 metre BM68 handicap at Morphettville last Saturday.

He is rapidly becoming a first up specialist as his last two victories have been at the start of new campaigns.

Last Saturday, the locally owned sprinter resumed from a two month spell and, as usual, was nearer last than first as the field headed for the judge at the top of the straight.

The money was on the mark too, backed from $3.60 into $2.80 favourite, and the race panned out perfectly for regular rider Ryan Hurdle with plenty of speed up front.

Even so, it was still a hard watch for punters who supported Spin The Reward as the four year old gelding needed the entire Morphettville straight to put his nose in front and score by a long head.

PLENTY FOR EVERYONE

Warm summer conditions should make for the perfect day for the Naracoorte cup meeting on Sunday.

All the hype starts tomorrow night at the Naracoorte racecourse with the calcutta where Sam Hayes will be the guest speaker.

With 180 people booked in, that is more than three times the number at the function in recent years.

Entries are still being taken (0438622271) for both the male and female "Dash for Cash" races as part of Sunday's entertainment at the course.

The respective winners will receive $300 each, as will the club he/she represents.

While the Coopers marquee is booked out, there are some vacancies in the Punters marquee ($140 per ticket, includes 5 hour drink package and nibbles and live music by Shaun Brown)

The new children's playground has ticked all the O,H & S requirements and will be in use on Sunday.

Proof of two vaccinations is required for entry to the course.

Sunday's crowd is capped at 1,000 for the general public, and tickets will be available at the gate providing the full quota has not been pre sold online.

SUCCESS AT THE ROCK

Hanging Rock (between Kyneton and Woodend) is a long way from Mount Gambier however the Bob and Kane Post stable made a successful trip to the Australia Day meeting there last week.

Olifoet was perfectly placed in the 2400 metre BM 52 handicap, even though the nine year old gelding was backing up for the second time in three days.

The previous Sunday at Penola, Olifoet ran third to Runbro in open company in the Summer cup at Penola and here he was lining up in far lesser class amongst some extremely ordinary opposition.

A patient Lewis German ride enabled Olifoet ($7.50) to swamp his rivals in the final 200 metres and win by two lengths.

COMING UP

- Sunday, February 6: Naracoorte gallops (cup day)
- Tuesday evening, February 8: Mount Gambier harness racing
- Friday morning, February 11: Official race trials at Glenburnie

SO FAR SO GOOD: More than 40 gallopers tested the main track at Glenburnie during trackwork last Tuesday morning with a positive response from all concerned.

O'Donnell's just reward

AFTER striking the best form of his life in recent weeks, it seemed only a matter of time before Mount Gambier Golf Club member Patrick O'Donnell finally achieved his goal of shooting a round of even par 72 or better at Attamurra.

In the stableford competition last Thursday, he managed to take out the event with a one-under par of 71 and 40 points.

In late November to early December, O'Donnell shot rounds of 73, 74 and 73 in the space of nine days; the final one of the trio good enough to claim victory for the monthly medal in December.

On Thursday he put on an even better performance, firing 36 on the front nine and 35 on the back to break the hoodoo.

"It was good to finally do it ... I was copping a bit of stick from my playing partners who had all done it," the 49-year-old said.

"It probably could have been even better; I missed par putts on the 12th and 14th that were both no more than two feet from the hole."

Luckily, he made up for at least one of those with a birdie putt from about 30 feet on the par three 16th hole which found the bottom of the cup.

O'Donnell's round looked as if it would just fall short when he made a bogey six on the first hole after finding himself in the greenside bunker for four.

BIG ACHIEVEMENT: Mount Gambier Golf Club member Patrick O'Donnell finally reached his goal of finishing on an even-par round of 72 in the stableford competition last Thursday.

Pars on the second and third holes steadied his pace before he got back to square with a birdie on the par-four fourth hole after dropping a putt from about 15 feet.

More pars on the fifth and sixth holes were followed by another birdie on the par-five seventh hole when he finished just off the green for two, having no difficulty getting up-and-down after putting up close to the hole.

Unfortunately, he lost the momentum with a bogey on the signature par-three eighth hole, but a par on the ninth was good enough for an even par 36 along with 19 stableford points.

O'Donnell made three more birdies on the back nine - on the 11th, 15th and 16th holes - missing an eagle opportunity on the 15th when his second shot to the par-five stopped about 15 feet from the flag.

Pars on the final two holes had him come in with a 35 for 71 off the stick and 21 more points for a total of 40, good enough to claim the win by a single point from Ken Whitehead.

Peter Gardner was one further back on 38, edging out Peter Berkefeld for third on a count-back.

Last Thursday was also the final round of the Driscoll Summer Cup, where O'Donnell's 40 points lifted him into third place on a total of 229 from his best six rounds of the three-month-long event.

The winner was Max Hellyer who could not improve on his tally prior to the final round, but finished on 240 points with an average of 40 per round, eight points ahead of runner-up Gordon Bignell.

Meanwhile the event last Saturday came in as a stableford multiplier.

Playing in pairs, the main objective was to ensure neither member of the duo had a wipe which automatically saw zero points go on the card.

At the end of the day it was the pairing of club champion Darren Bilney and Ian Ritter who finished on top of the leaderboard with 80 points.

The pair did their best work on the front nine picking up an impressive 50 points, the highlights being nine-pointers on the first and ninth holes with Bilney making three-point birdies on both and Ritter playing his part with three-point pars.

Their back nine was not to the standard of the front nine, with zero points on the 15th and 18th holes dragging their tally down to 30.

It was still good enough to finish a solitary point ahead of runners-up Phil McBain and William Rowland.

This team's front nine was also their best, with a 12-pointer on the par-five seventh hole becoming the highlight thanks to a four-point par from Rowland and a three-point par from McBain.

Tony Geddes and Brad Von Duve were one point further back in third place on 78 points; their round getting a flying start on the first hole with 12 points jumping onto the card when Von Duve dropped in a four-point birdie and Geddes with a three-point par.

Monthly Medal going strong

BLUE Lake Golf Club was spared any long term damage from the recent Crater Lakes fire.

Over 100 players contested the OK Pie Shop sponsored Monthly Medal Round to show appreciation for volunteers and firefighters.

The winner, Nicholas Driver was a run-away winner with his standout round of 77-17-60.

Driver proved his golfing ability with three pars over the second, third and fourth holes before a minor stumble on the fifth with a double bogey.

He made up for it with a birdie on the seventh hole to turn with a sub 40 front nine.

Looking to break 80, Driver only found the rough once on the inward nine with a wayward drive on the 14th hole, costing him another double.

He bounced back again with another birdie on the 17th hole to go 38 off the stick giving him a gross score of 77 to take the outright win easily.

After his promotion to A Grade, Stephen Kamphuis enjoyed a rich vein of form, this time taking out the grade win with his nett 68.

Kamphuis was steady early, following up an opening brace of pars with a run of bogeys but then made short work of the seventh hole with a birdie to turn with a 40.

Over the back nine, his consistency dropped with a couple of double bogeys being mixed in with a birdie on the 17th hole to return another 40 for a round of 80-12-68.

Scratch golfer Anthony Williams found four birdies over his round but still left a few over the back nine.

A one under 34 had him set up for a sub par round but he could only match three bogeys with two birdies to come in with a 36 and take second place with a nett 70.

Bob White secured third place after a count-back, thanks mainly to his inward nine of 36.

White came back after a disappointing outward 42 but birdies on the 10th, 11th and 17th holes showcased his ability.

The closest golfer to get to Driver's outright win was new member Dudley Tanton with a nett 66.

Although the ex-super bike racer had a run of double bogeys interspersed with some pars to have splits of 43 and 41, he still showed enough class to hang on for the B Grade win.

Roger Gale managed to take second place in B Grade with a round of 85-17-68.

Gale's highlight was a birdie on the second but he picked up a number of double bogeys as well.

Barry Humphries survived a three-way count-back to take third place with his round of 84-15-69.

Adrian O'Donnell sealed yet another win, this time in C Grade after beating Scott Patterson in a count-back.

Both finished on nett 70 and despite giving away eight strokes in handicap difference, O'Donnell finished off with a birdie on the 14th and splits of 47 and 45.

Third place Richard Neale excelled over the back nine after a tricky opening, with three pars over the middle section helping him to a 44 off the stick and a nett 71.

Place getters included David Johnston, Simon Perryman, Ben Papps, Alex Joukoff, David Dowie, Martin Markiewicz, Brad Talbot, Steven Jelly, Callum Harvey, Michael Egan, Stephen Smith and Rod Heinrich while Egan was the only player to register a nearest to the pin for A Grade.

Tim Bates in fifth place and Matt Jennings in 16th won the pro shots while Williams picked up the novelty award for least putts.

Veterans show class

A SMALLER than average total of 55 competitors played at the Attamurra Golf Course with some tight pin placements in the veterans competition on Monday.

Graham Patterson managed to take out the first division with an impressive 42 points, beating out Beachport's John Howe on 39 who took the count-back from Robe's Kev Otten also on 39.

Otten over-clubbed the par three sixth hole, hitting the flag on top of the stick, then spinning back into the hole for a par.

Trev Williams on 39 won the second division from Millicent's Rob Thompson on 38.

Thompson put in a fair effort with an airy to finish runner-up, while Bryon Coe came in third place on 36.

There were four nearest the pins won by Bryon Coe, John Howe, Grant Stephenson, and Rob Sims.

The balls for this were given by Des Guerin, a long time member, who recently retired from the veterans.

Russ Lingham and Dennis Smith won the Ross Orchard trophy with a final 22, while the ball run-down went to 33 or better.

The next outing will be at Port MacDonnell on February 14.

Members on the increase

NEW women's members have been on the increase recently at the Blue Lake Golf Club.

Jorja Morale has seen her handicap drop to a respectable 28 and Kate Hommelhoff is quickly following in her footsteps.

Hommelhoff was a clear winner in Saturday's stroke round, with no one getting near her nett 66.

After a superb opening par, Hommelhoff struggled over the third and fourth holes, but held it together to finish the front nine with a strong end.

She kept the momentum on the back nine with a birdie on the 11th hole.

With another par on the 17th hole, Hommelhoff took six shots off her outward nine to record a 102-36-66 win.

Annette Ford was reeling off two pars over her first five holes to initially threaten Hommelhoff for the win.

Ford made light work of the 12th hole for another par but she came undone with a disastrous final hole that almost cost her second place.

Luckily she had enough good scores on other holes to hang on with 95-22-73.

Helen Stratford's experience saw her sneak in for third place with a back nine 46 too good for a chasing pack, including Lee-Anne Medhurst, Di Perryman and Josie Ashby who all finished on nett 74.

Ashby was compensated for her miss with a win in the long drive competition and also picking up the nearest the pin prize while Medhurst took the novelty with her least putts and Hommelhoff took home an extra three golf balls with her pinnacle award.

Crouch Shield takes flight

ROUND eight of the B Grade Hoggies Wines Crouch Shield saw big wins for East Gambier, Kongorong, Mil Lel and Glencoe, while Penola and West Gambier's clash was called off.

At Steeline Park, Easts completed a dominant victory over Yahl by an innings and 135 runs.

Easts racked up a huge 316 in their first innings while Yahl could only manage 66 and 115 in response.

Marc Roberts was on fire for Easts, taking match figures of 8-42 with the ball and was the side's second top scorer with 55.

Jack Lawrence top-scored with 71 while Aaron Schultz, Connor Little and Angus Clarke all contributed strongly to Easts big first innings total.

For Yahl it was slim pickings but Nick Brown (44) battled gamely in the second innings to continue his strong season with the bat and Jamie Moody toiled hard with the ball to finish with six wickets in the first innings.

Kongorong took on Gambier Central at the greyhounds track and were never really threatened after compiling 227 in their first innings.

Joel Tully, William Von Stanke and Kody Vanderhorst led the way with half-centuries while Brayden Barker picked up three wickets for Centrals.

In response, Centrals were bowled out for 152 with only Damien Lock (30 not out) and skipper Jarryd Burston (25) offering any real resistance.

Without enough time to realistically push for an outright win, Kongorong went out for some time in the middle which Thomas Bellinger took full advantage of, cracking 118 as his side reached 5-191.

In a game dominated by the bowlers, it was Mil Lel's Daniel Justin who proved to be the difference at Frew Park against North Sportsman's.

Justin scored a fantastic 80 from 98 balls which allowed Mil Lel to post 168 in their first innings.

He belted 13 fours and one six in his knock which saw him arrive at the crease at 3-30 and depart with the score on 153.

Zach Clark (4-41) was the standout with the ball for North.

North made a solid start in their chase, moving to 1-41 before a collapse of 9-67 saw them bundled out for just 108.

Brad Robinson (26 not out off 74 balls) played a lone hand.

Wickets were shared by the Mil Lel bowlers but Caleb Bachman's 3-21 was the pick of the bunch.

Leading by 60 after the first innings, Mil Lel would have been looking for quick runs in the hopes of forcing an outright result but North's bowlers had other ideas as they ran through the Mil Lel lineup in under 27 overs for just 95 runs.

Justin was again the backbone of the innings, scoring 42 from 68 balls as only one other batsman made it to double figures.

With only seven overs remaining in the day there was very little chance of an outright result but that didn't stop Mil Lel from trying as they managed to reduce North to 4-39 by the end of play.

In the end though they had to settle for first innings points.

Glencoe was the other big winner from the weekend as they demolished South Gambier by an innings and 21 runs at the Blue Lakes Sports Park.

Souths were never in the contest after being bowled out for just 77 in the first innings.

Shaun Taylor (5-30) and Josh Agars (3-19) ripped through the South batting lineup in just under 22 overs.

Glencoe were then able to amass 6-184 declared, led by fifties to Taylor and Jed Matthews, before sending South back in and rolling them for 86 for the outright win.

Trueman Schrader was the star with six wickets while Taylor capped off a fantastic all-round performance with another two.

Finally, a game that was shaping up to be a great contest between Penola and ladder leaders West Gambier was abandoned at McCorquindale Park due to wet weather.

Penola had managed a strong total of 203 the previous week with George Kidman's unbeaten 64 from 91 balls.

Dermot Moore (43) and Jacob Robbie (43) were the other main contributors with the bat.

Shane DeJong (4-53) and Conor Galpin (3-46) bowled well for Wests.

Wests were 0-8 off four overs in reply when the game was called off.

Round nine is another round of two day matches to be played across this Saturday and February 12.

ROUND 8 Results:

- East Gambier 316 (J Lawrence 71, M Roberts 55, J Moody 6-117) defeated Yahl 66 (M Roberts 5-31) and 115 (N Brown 44) by an innings and 135 runs.

- Kongorong 227 (J Tully 55, K Vanderhorst 55, W Von Stanke 50) and 5-191 (T Bellinger 118) defeated Gambier Central 152 (D Lock 30*) by 75 runs (first innings).
- Mil Lel 168 (D Justin 80, Z Clark 4-41) and 95 (D Justin 42, Z Clark 2-13) defeated North Sportsman's 108 (C Bachman 3-21) and 4-39 (Z Clark 28*) by 60 runs (first innings).
- Glencoe 6 for 184 dec (J Matthews 51*, S Taylor 50) defeated South Gambier 77 (S Taylor 5-30) and 86 (T Schrader 6-21) by an innings and 21 runs.
- Penola 203 (G Kidman 64*, S DeJong 4-53) drew with West Gambier 0-8 (match abandoned).

ROUND 9 Fixture:

- Gambier Central vs Mil Lel - Mount Gambier Greyhounds Oval
- Penola vs Yahl - McCorquindale Park
- West Gambier vs Kongorong - Malseed Park
- Glencoe vs South Gambier - Glencoe Oval

Crater smoke causes game cancellation

CRICKET matches are often called off due to bad weather - rain, heat, possibly snow if you're playing in a typical English summer - but last weekend a game was cancelled due to fire.

North Sportsman's and Mil Lel's A Grade clash was halfway through at Marist Park but was forced to be abandoned due to the Crater Lakes fire that took place earlier in the week in between days one and two of play.

While the match will be treated the same as a 'washout', it was actually the smoke around the ground that made play unsafe and so all matches that were due to be played on the ground that weekend were called off.

Having been sent in, North were in a dominant position after posting a fantastic 9-258 on day one and would have been confident of not only taking first innings points but also pushing for an outright victory.

Elliot Fisher was the star with the bat for North, making a career-high 95 off just 115 balls before he was cruelly denied a maiden century, given out LBW to become one of Jack Miller's six wickets on the day.

In the end however, Mother Nature had the final say and Mil Lel escaped with a draw to maintain their spot in the top four heading into the penultimate round of the A Grade Hoggies Wines Barber Shield season.

Tomorrow Mil Lel will take on West Gambier at Frew Park while North Sportsman's clash with Penola at McCorquindale Park.

Both teams will be hoping to complete this round in its entirety.

West tears through South

WEST Gambier completed a comfortable outright win over South Gambier last weekend to move into top spot on the A Grade ladder.

Having already secured first innings points on day one, West batted on to start the second day before eventually being bowled out for 147.

Jake Blackwell led the way with a fantastic 56 from 79 balls, which included five fours and one six, before he was run out by Michael Sims.

Other contributions came from Bray Stephenson (20 off 23 balls), Jack Geddes (15 off 55) and Sam Coxon (13 off 41).

Jakob Opie was the pick of South Gambier's bowlers, finishing with 4-40 from his 11 overs while Robert Drenthen managed 3-53 from his 11 overs.

South had managed to limit the damage and trailed by just 54 runs heading into their second innings but after managing just 93 in their first knock, they would need quite the turnaround to salvage something from this contest.

Stephen Easterbrook opened the innings for South and immediately showed his intent by taking the attack to the bowlers.

Easterbrook was savage on anything short but when the bowlers attempted to pitch it up he was able to drive powerfully down the ground.

With Easterbrook going at a rapid pace there might have been some optimism in the South Gambier sheds that they could build a lead and give Wests a challenging target to chase late in the day.

Unfortunately for South, Easterbrook had no support and when he was dismissed for 42 from just 38 balls the rest of the lineup collapsed to be all out for 67.

The next best score came from Nick Seager (10 off 13) and four batsmen came and went without troubling the scorers.

Wickets were shared around for Wests with Sam Willis, Stephenson and Kyal Chapman all picking up three apiece.

Needing just 14 runs to claim an outright win West wasted no time and, despite losing

Jack Geddes for a golden duck, finished things off inside two overs with Blackwell (12 off 6) doing most of the work and capping off a brilliant all-round game from himself.

RESULTS:

- West Gambier 147 (J Blackwell 56, B Stephenson 20, J Opie 4-40, R Drenthen 3-53) and 1 for 14 defeated South Gambier 93 (D Loupos 45, S Easterbrook 20, J Blackwell 4-21, R Crute 2-2) and 67 (S Easterbrook 42, K Chapman 3-7, B Stephenson 3-11, S Willis 3-22) by 9 wickets outright.

East cruises past Penola in A Grade

EAST Gambier easily accounted for Penola over the weekend, claiming a first innings victory at Scott Park thanks to an even contribution from their batsmen.

Dion Stratford was the standout for Easts as he compiled a hard-hitting 63 from 123 balls which included nine fours and three sixes.

The innings was a welcome return to form for the wicket-keeper batsman who had managed just 30 runs from his last five knocks, having started the season in fantastic touch.

Penola was always going to be up against it after posting a modest total of 134 on day one of the clash but they came out with the right intent to start the day which led to the early wicket of Leigh Von Duvé for 11.

That brought Steven Cameron out to the middle to join Ben Hentschke with the pair riding their luck.

They survived a couple of edges and a few close LBW shouts but were able to keep the scoreboard ticking over by pouncing on the loose balls from the Penola bowlers.

Hentschke eventually fell for 14 and was shortly followed back to the sheds by James Sullivan (9).

Penola had their fourth wicket soon after as Cameron departed for a well-made 30.

Having reduced Easts to 4-92, Penola had a faint pulse but that was quickly snuffed out as Stratford and Emerson Marks (19) combined for a 39-run stand to take Easts within touching distance of a first innings win.

Stratford and new partner Ben Robinson (19) finished the job and, along with Alex Hentschke (10 not out), allowed Easts to declare at 7 for 208.

Michael Waters was the best of Penola's bowlers, finishing with 3-51 off his 20 overs, while Zac Zema also chipped in with two wickets.

With just 14 overs to be bowled, an outright victory for Easts was always at long odds and only a shocking collapse from Penola was going to allow it.

Three wickets did fall to add some nerves to the Penola change rooms but they were able to see out the day without further drama.

The win moves East Gambier into third spot on the A Grade Hoggies Wines Barber Shield ladder while Penola remain in second place.

Tomorrow, Round 9 gets underway with Penola taking on North Sportsman's, while East Gambier battles South Gambier at Scott Park.

RESULTS:

- East Gambier 7 for 208 dec (D Stratford 63, S Cameron 30, M Waters 3-51, Z Zema 2-9) defeated Penola 134 (M Smith 55, L Jones 20, B Hentschke 4-38, L Turley 3-20) and 3 for 12.

GOOD KNOCK: East Gambier's Leigh Von Duvé shapes to hit into the onside in his team's win over Penola at Scott Park last weekend.

Ladder leaders triumph

THE scene was set for a big day of baseball with the top two sides going head to head in front of a bumper crowd at Blue Lake Sports Park last Saturday afternoon.

The champions Centrals were met with the full noise of the Tigers.

There was certainly no love lost with the Tigers boys and Centrals not afraid to stir the pot with each other with some good old fashioned ribbing and banter.

Tigers went with Karl Ransom on the hill while Centrals opted for Dylan Chuck and the game was a real pitcher's duel with both sides limited in their hits and runs.

Centrals found first blood in the second when Dylan Chuck lined a double to right field to get Kyall McLean across to third which was followed with a Dylan Gull single that brought home the runs.

The Tigers were kept quiet with some great pitching from Chuck and couldn't capitalise on runners.

Centrals again brought two home in the fourth when Koby Chant scored two more runs with his shot to the centre right gap.

It was the eighth inning and Tigers finally drew blood and clawed back two runs thanks to superstar Hayden Jones scoring Jake England.

Jones is really showing he is in form at the right end of the year.

A moon shot by Tyler Horrigan to the fence then scored Jones and suddenly the margin was halved.

That was all she wrote and the scorers weren't bothered again as the game was completed with Centrals winning four runs to two.

These two teams will meet again on Sunday, February 13 for the 'Pink Day' which will bring a bumper crowd and add another chapter in the storied rivalry between these two titan teams.

Footy kicks off, Kybybolite again the team to beat

Kalangadoo will no doubt be better for the run with 12 players making their debut last Sunday.

Second up on Sunday was a much more competitive contest between Penola and Casterton Sandford with the Casterton Sandford side getting out to an early lead at quarter-time before being reeled in and overtaken by a tough Penola team.

Penola grabbed the lead in the second quarter and despite Casterton Sandford's best efforts, they were never able to mount a serious comeback and eventually fell to a 20-point defeat.

Caroline McGrath, Paris Ackland, Kirsty Hackwill and Sammy Freeman all impressed for Penola while Gabby Sullivan, Chloe Finnigan and Erin Horsnell battled hard for Casterton Sandford.

Penola coach Daniel Hackwill was happy with his team's performance and especially how they responded to a slow start.

"I think I was most pleased by how some of our younger girls played, either in their first games or in much bigger roles than last year," Hackwill said.

"And also with how our team started to gel after a slow start with some new and returning players."

The lift in Penola's play was down to a couple of key areas according to Hackwill.

"I basically just said (at quarter time) that we needed to control what we could control, which was our forward pressure and effort around the stoppages and if we could do that I thought we would start to get some momentum," Hackwill said.

"I think Shandeem Balshaw lifted her physicality which set the tone in that area, and I think as a team we just settled into what we knew we had to do."

Looking ahead to tonight's match-up with Kalangadoo, Hackwill is wary of the challenge Penola faces but is confident of his team's chances.

"I think they have historically been a physical team so if we don't match them in that area they might start to get their tails up," he said.

"But if we do that (match their physicality) and play to our strengths then I think we will do well."

It was another one-sided affair in the third match of the day as Kybybolite demolished Kongorong by 134 points.

Sophie Henschke led the way for the Tigers with five goals while the likes of Dellie Brown, Georgia Gill, and Ella Jones were also among Kybybolite's best.

The Kongorong Hawks battled well throughout the game but were continually hurt by turnovers and the extra speed and skill from Kybybolite proved to be the big difference between the sides. Finally it was the North Gambier Tigers taking on the Millicent Saints to cap off a big day of football.

Despite some inaccuracy in front of the big sticks, North Gambier were able to control the game and run out 25-point winners.

Round two starts tonight with Penola up against Kalangadoo with North Gambier and Casterton Sandford's clash to follow straight after. On Sunday, Mundulla play their first game of the season after having a first round bye and they'll take on Millicent before South Gambier battles Kongorong.

Kybybolite has the bye.
